New plant in Madison

By MICK STRANGE

The TWR Freight Car Repair Corporation, with headquarters in Alorton, Ill., is expanding its existing operations and has begun utilization of former Lackde Steel Co. building number 10 in Madison.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasys has announced details of the expansion to City Council members. Federal and municipal cooperation has been pledged, utilizing funds that can be "recycled" for other industrial development projects in the future.

In conjunction with the opening of the new TWR facility in Madison, the firm is securing new contracts with companies using rail cars. TWR plans to modify the Madison plant building to fully utilize the available enclosed and land space. Through securing new business, it expects to increase its employment here from an initial 60 employees to 300 people within the next five to six years.

Employees will be drawn from in and about the Madison area, according to the company.

With the increasing demand for upgrading of mass transit systems and the energy crisis, the company projects that within 10 years employment will have increased to approximately 400 people.

TWR was incorporated July 16, 1974, and has been in operation since June 1975 in Alorton (St. Clair County).

The company presently holds contracts with Illinois Power Co., Central Illinois Power Co. and Pullman Leasing Co. TWR also does a substantial amount of repair work for the Illinois Terminal Railroad and the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad.

Black progress noted by Price

By MICK STRANGE

The Venice Recreation Center was filled to overflowing Saturday evening for the first annual membership banquet of the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Illinois Secretary of State Alan Dixon and U.S. Congressman Melvin Price were guests of honor, with Price being the main speaker.

The veteran 23rd District congressman praised black citizens' multi-faceted efforts to achieve a better life and cited many examples of successes that have been achieved. Secretary Dixon made an appeal to those in the audience to support the NAACP financially and join with the group in its work for equality.

"No organization has done more for the rights of minorities than the NAACP," Dixon said.

"The NAACP has been in the forefront in raising the quality of life of minorities and fighting for equal rights under the law for everyone."

"I believe in the work of the NAACP and I am going to take out 20 memberships right now for 20 of my employees who also believe in the work of the NAACP."

"I want to invite all of you here to join and to make a financial contribution to help the cause of equality and brotherhood among all men," Dixon said.

Following his remarks several persons in the audience made gifts to the organization.

China syndrome — dialogue urged at area meeting

Fast-breaking world events have reinforced the bonds between the United States and the People's Republic of China and have demonstrated the importance of the opening of dialogue between the two nations, in the opinion of Earl Lazerson, acting president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

In a welcome to Chinese Ambassador Chai Zemin and other participants at a conference on Sino-American relations Saturday morning in St. Louis, President Lazerson said, "The university is pleased to be part of a conference that can help shape a peaceful and hopeful future."

The ambassador addressed the conference Saturday afternoon, speaking on the subject, "The Current World Situation and Sino-American

Building permits granted by Granite City during February set an all-time record for total values of building projects as 23 permits listing values totaling $5,029,519 were issued, according to the monthly report issued Thursday by Bill Dallas Jr., Inspection Department clerk.

Major projects by three industries bolstered the monthly total. Pre-Coat Metals, a division of Chromalloy American, obtained a permit for a $3,186,000 foundation for a metals-processing plant in the Northgate Industrial Park on the west side of Route 3 south of Interstate 270. Air Products Co. obtained a $1,281,000 permit for a second foundation and underground plumbing and fixtures in connection with a major plant expansion project at 22nd and Monroe streets.

Archer Daniels Midland Co. obtained three permits for its grain elevator and soybean processing facility on Cargill Road. One is for a $300,000 enclosure, another is for a $26,000 warehouse addition and the third is for a $50,000 maintenance shop.

A permit to construct a $100,000 Kinder Care day care center at 2900 Parkway Drive also was granted.

With permits for five other commercial remodeling projects, one new home, a mobile home, two garages, a room addition and seven home remodeling projects, the total value of building for the month nearly equaled the totals for two of the last three years.

In all of 1977, permits totaled $5,869,222, and in 1978 the figure was $5,759,379. Last year, the total value of projects granted permits climbed to $7,554,603.

February's permits will give the city an excellent chance in 1980 to exceed last year's total and possibly even to break the all-time annual record of $13,228,529 set in 1965, Dallas commented.

Permits granted during February, with the value of each were: Leon Podurgiel, mobile home at 2811 (Continued on Page 5)

Older worker hiring drive

Hiring of older workers here is being given special emphasis during observance of National Employ the Older Worker Week March 9-15, proclaimed by President Jimmy Carter and Quad-City mayors.

"The law recognizes our special responsibility to assure older workers an equal chance for jobs and promotions," the president has commented.

"Many groups are now working to improve prospects for older workers. These efforts deserve vigorous support." Dorothy J. Williams, local office manager of the State Job Service office in Granite City, says her staff is intensifying its efforts to make employers aware of the advantages of hiring experienced, mature workers.

Jewell Young is a RENEW specialist in the Job Service office who works with persons 40 years of age and older. She also contacts employers to let them know that she can find skilled, mature

Take 5 car batteries

The batteries of five autos in West Granite City were stolen Monday night or early Tuesday. In every case the battery cables were cut, and in one incident the tie-down bands on the battery were cut.

Ruby Walker, 1864 Poplar St., Clarence Weaver, 2440 Logan St., and James Stewart, 2615 Cayuga St., reported the batteries were taken from their autos, parked at the curbs in front of their homes.

The auto of Marie Moore and Glenda Moore, both of 2304 Missouri Ave., parked in a garage behind their home, were entered and the batteries stolen. Glenda Moore reported it was the second battery which had been stolen from her car, the previous theft having occurred in October.

Eye donor campaign

It's the "eyes of March."

At least, the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness (ISPB) hopes so. The Illinois Society, a non-profit organization that has been fighting blindness in Illinois for 64 years, is making a special plea for eye donors during the month of March as the nation observes National Eye Bank Month.

Since 1947, the Illinois Eye Bank, founded and supported by the Illinois Society and operated at the University of Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary in Chicago, has helped to provide, preserve or improve the sight of more than 4,000 individuals with damaged or defective corneas.

Corneal tissue for these transplants can only come from human donors, according to Edgar T. Britton, executive director of ISPB, and there are never enough donors. More than 200 citizens in the Chicago area alone, he says, are now waiting for tissue.

Persons who would like to pledge their eyes to posterity can do so easily, Britton emphasizes. All one has to do is call or write the Illinois Society for a donor card.

The number is 922-8710 and the address is 33 W. Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 60604. This card is then signed in the presence of two witnesses and carried on the person.

An Illinois driver, in addition to carrying the card, can also place an orange "Organ Donor" sticker on his or her driver's license.

Those 18 years of age or older can pledge their eyes, and no prior eye examination is needed. Eyes are usable even if vision is poor, and removal of the eyes causes no change whatever in the appearance of the deceased, Britton concludes.

Church of God special event

In conjunction with the Spring Enlargement Campaign now in progress at the Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon Road, a "Pack-A-Pew" program will be observed at the 9:30 a.m. service, according to the Rev. O.J. Cloninger, pastor.

The person who enlists the attendance of the most people for the service will be awarded the world's largest candy bar to be about 12 feet in length and weighing 25-35 pounds, the minister added.

The campaign will continue each Sunday through Easter Sunday with a new and different theme for each week, Rev. Cloninger noted.

FIRST ARCHIVIST. Allan McCurry, a history professor for 20 years at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, including seven years as dean of its School of Social Sciences, has become the university's first archivist. Finding space for archival material has been McCurry's initial problem. Although housed in the basement of SUE's Lovejoy Library, the new archivist is not a member of the library staff. Money for his new position was transferred from the School of Social Sciences and he reports directly to the vice-president and provost. McCurry is shown transferring some archival material into acid-free boxes for preservation.

Car hits policeman's house

Carl Schwierjohn, 64, of 2700 Lincoln Ave., was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after his car struck the house of Granite City Patrolman James Reader in the 2100 block of Johnson Road at 10 p.m. Sunday.

A witness reported he heard tires squeeling and saw a brown car, westbound on Johnson Road, slide sideways in the road, enter Reader's yard and then strike the house, damaging the front and doorway.

The car then backed up, striking a tree, and continued to back onto Johnson Road. It then left westbound, being driven in a reckless manner, the witness alleged.

While police were on the scene investigating the accident, Schwierjohn returned and said his car struck the house. He told officers an oncoming car with bright lights blinded him temporarily and he sawered to avoid a parked car and lost control.

He said no one was at Reader's home, so he drove to the police department, but then drove home and decided to return to the accident scene.

He was released after posting his driver's license as bond.

Apartment is damaged extensively

Harold L. Barnett, 27, of 2007 Missouri Ave., has been charged with criminal damage to property on a state complaint after he allegedly tore up a furnished apartment he was renting at that address at 7:10 p.m. Thursday.

Police were called to a disturbance and arrived to hear glass breaking. Barnett's wife and young son were inside and alleged he was uncontrollable and had frightened them.

Officers arrested him. They alleged items had been thrown around the house, breaking the television set, radio, pictures, drapes, two end tables and a coffee table. Eight windows had been broken, holes were knocked in the walls, floor was thrown on furniture and the carpeting. The kitchen table had been broken and the refrigerator had been emptied on the floor.

Broken bottles of food were on the kitchen floor and furniture was overturned everywhere, they said. In two bedrooms, furniture was overturned and a chest of drawers was broken, it was alleged.

Officers also alleged Barnett threatened to kill his wife, if she signed a complaint against him. The complaint was signed by Jesse Barnes, 203 Missouri Ave., owner of the apartment and furnishings.

Venice police arrest alleged murderers

Two brothers, Lester Lumpkin, 25, and LaVerne Lumpkin, 33, both from East St. Louis, are being held for the Illinois State Police without bond on murder warrants.

They allegedly killed

Ricky Hillard, 24, also of East St. Louis.

A State Police spokesman said a state highway worker found the Hillard body without bond on murder warrants.

Skeleton found by two youths

The skeletal remains of a body were found in a ditch by two youths a half mile east of the E. 23rd Street railroad crossing, about 30 feet off of Highway 162, Sunday afternoon.

Looking for aluminum cans, a youth kicked the skull, not knowing what it was until he saw teeth in the skull.

They called the Madison County sheriff's department at 3:30 p.m. Sheriff's deputies secured the crime scene until Detective Sgt. Edward Newsome arrived and took charge.

A search of the area found most of the skeleton, which was reconstructed by Sgt. Newsome. But there was nothing found that could identify the victim.

A sheriff's department spokesman said it is a possible homicide, but would give no further details until tests are conducted.

Given probation

Rita McRoy, 23, of the 2100 block of Dewey Ave., has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Victor J. Mosele in Madison County Circuit Court to serve 30 months of probation and to make $200 in restitution after she pleaded guilty to two counts of delivering controlled substances.

Undercover drug agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group alleged she sold drugs to them April 6 and 16, 1979. She was among 16 persons arrested in a coordinated sweep of arrests in September 1979.

MEET
Andy Matoesian
Democratic Candidate
For Circuit Judge

Dear Voter

For 14 years I have served as an Associate Trial Judge, hearing a variety of cases, including criminal, damage, and divorce. I feel I have done a good job as an Associate Judge and believe I would be an effective Circuit Judge. Therefore, I am a candidate for Circuit Judge, the next step above Associate Judge in the judicial system.

In the case of People vs. David Gray, the defendant was found guilty of rape, armed robbery and attempted murder and sentenced to 60 years. Gray filed an appeal with the Appellate Court, contesting my imposition of the maximum 60 year sentence. Under Illinois law, the maximum sentence for rape is 30 years; however, if the Judge is convinced that the crime is of a brutal nature, a maximum of 60 years may be imposed. The Appellate Court affirmed the 60 year sentence, including all my rulings.

Among my supporters are George J. Moran, recently retired Judge of the Appellate Court, Fred P. Schuman, former Chief Judge of the Circuit Court, and many lawyers and friends. If you wish to check on my qualifications, please call any lawyer or any judge in your area. You can also ask Emil Toffant, Sheriff of Madison County, who strongly endorses me.

I am opposed by an individual whose practice has been confined to the trial of damage suits, who has no prior judicial experience and whose practice has been confined to one area of the law.

I hope you cast your ballot for me in the Primary Election to be held on March 18, 1980.

Andy Matoesian

P.S. There are eight Circuit Judges in this Circuit, which consists of Madison and Bond Counties. There is no Circuit Judge now living in Granite City, Madison or Venice, yet these cities represent the bulk of the votes for the Democratic Party. If I am not elected, the Tri City area will be without a Circuit Judge. Does this situation make good sense without a Circuit Judge. Does this situation make good sense politically, geographically or from the standpoint of good judicial management?

Get well cards were sent to two circle members in the hospital.

Mrs. Ethel Lerch presented the lesson for the afternoon.

Others attending were Woodie Lynn, Alice Cruse, Virginia Segar, Mabel Stewart, Doris Wigger, Katherine Van Order and Eva Evans.

Reseeding in March

By WAYNE SIEFFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser
Reseeding your lawn every year isn't necessary unless there are a lot of dinner-plate sized bare spots.

Reseeding in the spring is a risk because crabgrass usually smother the young bluegrass, rake out the dead spots and treat the entire lawn with "Tupersan."

New varieties of bluegrass such as Adelphi, Majestic, Touchdown, Vicia, Bonnieblue, A-34, Parade and Baron are special because they have disease resistance to three of the worst lawn diseases in the St. Louis area. If you buy more than one pound of seed, make a mixture of two of these varieties.

Vigorously rake the dead spots to remove the crabgrass, thatch and dead clippings.

If you seed before you rake, the raking will mix the seed with the soil and plant residue and be "already planted" when finished.

Immediately treat the raked-out areas with Tupersan. Tupersan or Siduron is the only crabgrass-control preventer that will effectively control crabgrass without controlling the germinating seed of bluegrass or ryegrass.

If you treat the whole lawn with "Tupersan," it will control crabgrass while the established lawngrass thrives.

If you shop for Tupersan, look at the list of active ingredients on the bag. If it mentions Tupersan or Siduron, they are both the same.

GAS AND TANK TAKEN

Glenwood Greenard, No. 2 Nassau, discovered that sometime after midnight on Friday a $35 six-gallon gasoline tank left next to his boat and house, plus six gallons of gasoline valued at $9 were stolen. A hose and connectors for the tank valued at $25 also were taken.

Dutko, Novich—board rivals

Frank Dutko, 51, of 1808 Fifth St., Madison, is a candidate for the Madison County Board in District 24. The incumbent is not seeking re-election and Dutko is running for the Democratic nomination March 18.

He is running on a theme of "integrity and experience."

Dutko is currently a Second Ward alderman in Madison. He is a retired Madison chief of police and has a total of 30 years' experience in public service.

Active in civic affairs, Dutko was Madison County campaign chairman of the cancer crusade for seven years.

He is a charter committee member and still active with Explorer Post 10-4 of Madison. He has participated in numerous United Way drives.

When his son, Frankie, became 8, Dutko became active with Cub Pack 47, sponsored by St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, where he served as pack treasurer.

He has been married since 1954 to the former Sara Kester and they have five children, Cynthia, Kelly Ann, Robin Lynn, Frank Scott Dutko and Becky Ann. The candidate attended Harris Grade School and graduated from Madison High School in 1945.

He also attended Northeast Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville, Belleville Area College and the University of Illinois Police Training Institute.

A U.S. Navy veteran with an honorable discharge, he is an active member in the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church, Madison Armvets Post 204 and American Legion Post 307.

FRANK DUTKO

He served as a Madison patrolman for 13 years and was promoted to sergeant in 1963, lieutenant in 1964 and captain in 1967.

The late Mayor Stephen Mearns appointed him chief of police in 1970.

Dutko also served as Madison's first K-9 Corps police dog handler with "Sir Kelly."

Reared in Madison, he is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dutko. He has four brothers, Mike, Kelly, John and Howard Dutko, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Ferdiere and Mrs. Ann Podner.

Dutko states he is in favor of a "sound financial policy."

"I don't believe the County Board should ever spend more than it takes in. I believe very strongly that all elected officials should be accountable to the voters for their actions, both in their personal and public life," Dutko emphasized.

District 24 includes Venice Township precincts 3-6-7-8-9, plus Granite City precincts 1-2-3.

Gary R. Novich, 29, of 921 Lee Ave., Madison, a candidate for the District 24 Democratic nomination for the Madison County Board, is stressing his independence of any political ties.

"I am an independent candidate and have never sought the support of the Madison organization. I never have done it and I never will," Novich says.

"I expect strong support from Granite City Precincts 1,2 and 3. If I am elected I will meet regularly with the people and explain the issues and listen to what the people have to say."

"On primary election day in 1961 only lost the County Board race by 19 votes and I feel my support is stronger now than then."

"I do not favor, nor will I vote for, any tax increase of any kind."

"I also am in favor of increased law enforcement and will work with the county sheriff on programs that will deter crime throughout Madison County," Novich said.

Novich is or has been affiliated with the following organizations: Madison Lions Club, Granite City Democratic Club, past vice-president of Madison County Young Democrats, Knights of Columbus, St. Mary's Church and Booster Club, and Polish Hall.

Novich served two years as a Venice Township auditor (town board member) and resigned July 6, 1979, to accept a position in California, but did not move. He says, "I simply changed my mind about going. Many of my supporters urged me, because I am an independent Democrat, to stay in this area."

A real estate agent, Novich previously served as a student intern for the City of Madison and in 1972-73 was the recreation director for Madison.

He attended St. Mary School, Madison High School and McKendree College.

The primary election is Tuesday, March 18, with polls open from 6 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Charge 4 teens Given probation

Four teenagers who allegedly were involved in what was initially reported as the robbery of two other teenagers have been arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Charged were Robert L. Schlatter, 18, Edwardsville, Timothy M. Honski, 19, Washington Park, David G. Horn, 17, Tryon, and a juvenile boy. A petition has been filed in juvenile court against the latter.

They were accused of displaying pocket knives and frightening Mike Nikonowicz, 18, and Larry Ryan, 16, both of Granite City, after the two accepted a ride back to Granite City from the other four following a rock concert at Kiel Auditorium early March 3. After Nikonowicz and Ryan were let out of the car, they gave police the vehicle's description and it was stopped by Pontoon Beach police on Route 162, leading to the arrests of the four occupants. They have been released on bond.

"Relations." Following a news conference, he returned to the Chinese Embassy in Washington, D.C.

All sessions of the conference, sponsored by SIEU, The Missouri China Council, and the China Council of the Asia Society, were held at the Breckenridge Inn, Clayton Road and Lindbergh Blvd.

"We must make the most of the promise of the future," Pres. Lazerson said in his welcome address. "Figures on trade between China and the rest of the world, especially between our two nations, make evident the dramatic growth of a powerful network of economic ties which can benefit us in many positive ways."

But the university president urged the conferees to not restrict themselves to questions of economic interest. "Ties based on economic interest or military alliance may not be sufficient to maintain the friendship between great nations that the present age demands," he said.

"History teaches that the prospects for permanent and flexible lines of communication between nations is based on cultural interchange of every form. Exchanges of scholars, artists and others will lead to the mutual respect and understanding worthy of our cultures."

"The better we can know and appreciate each other, the more we can contribute to the peace and prosperity of those who look to us for leadership. Today, we are met in a mutual recognition that discourse which can achieve an honest exchange of knowledge and opinion is the path of wisdom for nations as well as persons."

"As an educational institution dedicated to conserving the best of the past to enrich the life of the present, SIEU takes pride in participating in the significant step toward mutual understanding that this conference represents."

Circus chairman

will all be busy with ticket solicitation—but not on the telephone.

"The annual program is one way that many followers of Aina Temple, which is one of the top in sending crippled children to the Shriners Hospital, of telling the nobility they encourage what we do, and thank us for the help we give," Potentate Tibbs commented.

"The profits from the circus are used to promote Aina and its efforts in Southern Illinois communities."

"The uniformed units of the Temple are in demand at every parade and homecoming, and the hospital unit does much for educational purposes in fireprevention throughout Southern Illinois, as well as letting people know how the Shrine can help with orthopedic needs of children and burns care."

Both the parades will have the same theme. "The Circus" will be the general theme for the floats, and many will present a "Salute to Disney characters." Profits will be given to the winners.

"The circus this year will offer over two hours of thrills and eye-catching stunts, Adams reports. "One of the finest of the circus world, the George Hootler International Circus, will be here."

"This is our first time for this troupe, and we are sure the public will want them to return."

"Ticket prices have not increased in the past three years for the circus, staying at $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children."

"Shriners will have books to sell, and also ones they give back to take children and adults who would not get there any other way."

The Laclede Steel structure that the freight car repair company has leased totals 83,700 square feet. There are 2,000 feet of existing track and the building provides access to seven five-ton overhead cranes.

Cost of getting the facility ready is Projected sales by 1984 are in excess of $12 million.

Through a government Community Development grant, Madison is loaning the company $35,000, which will be repaid.

The grant money may be used only for real property improvement. As loan is repaid, the money may again be loaned or used for improvements, in conformity with federal guidelines.

The company will continue its Alorton operation.

What Is A Trust?

This series of short articles is presented by the Trust Department, First Granite City National Bank, to better inform you about this important subject, and to dispel the mystique and wide-spread misunderstanding that surrounds it. Subsequent brief articles over the next few weeks will provide more details and insight into various types of trusts. Watch for them.

John Tallgren
Trust Officer

The Life Insurance Trust and "Pour-Over" will

During the past decade, the estate planning technique which has proven most popular with lawyers and their clients has been the life insurance trust coupled with a "pour-over" will. A life insurance trust is basically a revocable living trust, except that:

a) The initial assets of the trust generally consist solely of the right to receive the proceeds of life insurance policies; and

b) although created during lifetime, the trust does not become active until the insurance proceeds are collected and, of course, no trustee's fee is incurred until such time.

Some benefits

1. An insurance trust provides greater flexibility than insurance options. Insurance companies, under their options, can pay insurance proceeds to beneficiaries in only a limited number of ways. Once an option is selected it is usually impossible to make a variation, even to meet an emergency. On the other hand, these very important powers can quite easily be given to a trustee under a properly drafted trust agreement.

2. Although these advantages of flexibility may also be obtained by having insurance proceeds payable to a trust created by will, use of the separate insurance trust for this purpose gives greater assurance that these funds will be immediately available for the support of dependents or for other purposes, without the potential delays often experienced in admitting a will to probate.

3. "Pour-over" from will provides a unified estate plan. The insurance trust provides the vehicle for carrying an estate plan into effect. It sets up the trustee's powers, the investment provisions, and the time and manner of making payments to beneficiaries. With this in effect, a relatively simple will can be used to add all probate assets to the insurance proceeds held in the trust.

4. Privacy. Many persons desire to avoid publicity about such personal matters as the disposition of their estates. A living trust is a private document and, unlike a will which has been admitted to probate, is not subject to public scrutiny.

Whenever life insurance policies are owned in any substantial amount, the many advantages of a life insurance trust and "pour-over" will should be fully explored with your attorney.

What is a trust? We hope we've stripped some of the mystery from this not-so-simple question. If you should have additional questions, talk to your attorney and both of you are invited to visit us. We'll be glad to help.

And please remember: These short articles are offered only as a non-technical guideline to the question of trusts. They are not intended to be used as legal advice. That is the job of your own attorney.

Sam Wolf is recuperating

State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) is expected to be released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center Wednesday after a two-week hospitalization.

Wolf underwent surgery one week ago to remove a gall stone. He said this morning that he is recuperating well from the operation and feels much better.

He is a candidate for re-election in next Tuesday's (March 18) primary election.

NAACP dinner

addressed the group and urged full support of the local NAACP. The mayor praised the local group for its efforts to better the community and the support given to both black and white people.

Granite City Attorney Richard Allen introduced Congressman Price as being a leader in the human rights movement since his first election to Congress.

The Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the Madison Branch of the NAACP, with Mrs. Helen King, program chairman, and youth member Ginger Booker, presented Price with a plaque.

Cong. Price's comments follow: "The year was 1945. The 79th Congress had just begun its work and among the new members sitting in the House of Representatives was Melvin Price of Illinois.

"World War II was still raging, bringing destruction and death in Europe and the Pacific. Thousands of our young men in uniform made the ultimate sacrifice to retain our American way of life. Among those serving were a half million blacks, fighting and dying for their country.

"But they served in segregated units," Price noted. "In 1945, blacks might die, but they might live with whites; now, 35 years have passed since that time.

"Some things haven't changed. I'm still representing Illinois in Congress. But I'm pleased to say that many things have changed. And they have changed for the better.

"As late as 1959, black farmers in this country were denied pre-harvest loans if they registered to vote. Today, over 4,600 blacks hold elective offices, including 17 members of Congress, two of whom represent this state, Cardiss Collins and Bennett Stewart.

"In 1945, blacks serving in the military were segregated from their white counterparts. In 1954, some bases still evaded integration. Today, blacks hold top-ranking command positions in the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"In 1963, then-governor George Wallace of Alabama declared, 'segregation now, segregation forever.' Less than 15 years later, Air Force General

Chapman James stated, 'I am a leader and I have done the things one must do to become a general.'

"The dream made famous by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Had come true for Chappie James. The hope of Governor Wallace was dead.

"It is an honor for me to have been asked to speak to you this evening. The NAACP has always been in the front of civil rights movements. Your members have suffered more in these actions than anyone — and for that reason, the victory should taste even sweeter to you.

"Great strides have been made in recent years in ending racial discrimination in this country. I have been privileged to have cast my vote for landmark federal legislation which has aided in our attaining this goal: The Civil Rights Act, the Voting Rights Act, equal housing and employment regulations, to mention only a few.

"The more blatant discrimination has been outlawed. In my opinion, it is a national disgrace that it was ever necessary to enact such legislation in the United States, a land where it is declared that all men are created equal.

"But now comes perhaps an even more difficult battle: that of blacks taking their rightful place in our society.

"Black unemployment is consistently higher than that of whites, especially unemployment for black teenagers.

"There are still all too few blacks in state, county and local government positions nationwide.

"And although more and more young black men and women are graduating from college, the high school dropout rate is unacceptably high.

"The federal government is working to alleviate many of these problems. Increased federal grant money will aid low-income students to pay college tuition costs.

"At the primary and secondary school level, new teaching programs and better equipment will help children to learn more at a faster pace.

"Ceta and other manpower training programs, funded with federal dollars, are teaching men and women useful skills. I can think of no better example of the success of this type of program than the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center located right in this city.

"The federal government is continuing to aid in this struggle, but the most important ingredient to insure success is you.

"It is your spirit, your drive to succeed, your sacrifice which really counts.

"There are numerous examples of far more than East St. Louis, the home of United Nations Ambassador Donald McHenry, to see an example of the black American success story.

"But Ambassador McHenry is not alone.

"The cultural adviser to the U.S. Embassy in Nigeria is Don Hicks of East St. Louis.

"I mentioned Gen. Chappie James earlier, as well as Dr. King and Illinois Representatives Collins and Stewart. In addition, I could mention Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall, sportsman Jesse Owens and Henry Alton, educator Jesse Jackson, actors, musicians, religious leaders — the list goes on and on.

"All of these men and women faced what many of us have seemed insurmountable problems, but all of them succeeded. We can all learn from their example.

"Not everyone can reach the top of his or her profession and achieve national and international recognition. But everyone can work to the best of his or her ability and achieve personal success for the benefit of all.

"This is truly the essence of Americanism. This is what each of us, whatever our race, is striving for.

"This is what our founding fathers meant when they designed a constitution, which would 'secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.'

"As leaders of the black community in Madison County, I applaud your efforts in the writing of the black success story.

"I wish you continued good luck and, in return, I give you my assurance of continued support wherever and whenever it is needed," Cong. Price concluded.

CANNABIS SENTENCE

Daniel Shemwell, 20, of Rural Route Two, Granite City, has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve one year in the state's 710 rehabilitation program, pay a $1,000 fine and make restitution of $70 after he pleaded guilty to unlawful delivery of a misdemeanor amount of cannabis to an undercover law enforcement officer Aug. 29, 1979. The charge was reduced from a felony amount. Associate Judge John W. Day assessed the penalty.

LOBSTER THIEF

Employees of Charlie's Restaurant saw a young man running from the restaurant's parking lot with a live lobster at closing time Thursday. The man ran east on St. Clair Avenue. The lobster was valued at $36 and was taken from the lobster tank of the restaurant.

2 face felony theft charges

Two men who allegedly stole a welder from Granite City Steel property Nov. 9, 1979, have been charged in informational documents from the Madison County state's attorney office with one felony count of theft against each.

Charged last week were William R. Poelker, 30, New Douglas, who was arrested in Granite City, and Rex N. Rosborough, 28, Bethalto, who was arrested in Edwardsville.

It is alleged they removed a welder which was owned by Brooks Erection Co., St. Louis, from a construction project on steel company property.

Census jobs still offered

More applicants for paid, temporary work as census takers during the 1980 census are urgently needed, according to Ron Randolph, district manager of the local census office.

Census takers will be assigned to their own neighborhoods whenever possible, the manager said. Paid training will begin soon, followed by several weeks of full-time work visiting homes and interviewing the residents.

Census takers should be U.S. citizens age 18 or older. However, they may be hired at age 16 or 17 if they are high school graduates or have equivalent work experience. Also, the citizenship requirement may be waived, especially for persons fluent in a foreign language as well as English. A census taker must be able to follow printed instructions, do simple arithmetic, and read maps. All will be tested before interviewing for hiring. Pay will average $4 an hour or more.

Applicants should have a home telephone and a car, but neither is absolutely necessary. Mileage will be paid when a personal car is used for census work," Randolph said. "The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer."

For job information, Quad-Cityans may call 277-2950. The Granite City Township Building, 20605 Delmar Ave., may be contacted on Fridays. Tests are given here at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Fridays.

Mrs. Coonrod had been ill with diabetes for six months and had been released from a hospital three weeks ago.

She was born in Hamburg, Ill., and resided here 25 years.

Surviving are her husband, Paul T. Coonrod Sr.; a son, Paul T. Coonrod Jr., of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. David Lori Sheely of Granite City; two brothers, John Pearson of Detroit, Ill., and Bill Pearson of Pearl, Ill., and four sisters, Mrs. Bruce (Violet) Richards of East Alton, Mrs. Eddie (Joyce) Elbert of Summerfield, Ill., and Mrs. Lafayette (Virginia) Scoggins and Mrs. Mary Sisk, both of Detroit, Ill.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Water treatment certification class

A wastewater treatment class to help Illinois operators meet Class 4 certification requirements of the Environmental Protection Agency will be held in Centralia during March in a split-class format.

The class, Wastewater Treatment I, is one of a series scheduled in various Illinois cities by the SUE Environmental Resources Training Center, the state training center.

Kenneth D. Reid, program director for operations at ERTC (602-2030), said the sessions will cover Illinois rules and regulations and wastewater terminology and systems, presented in three, separate two-day sessions.

Students will learn to operate and maintain weirs, flumes, pumps, lift stations and pre-treatment, sampling and stabilization pond operations.

Classes will meet March 17-18, March 24-25, and March 31-April 1.

Mann on vessel in the western Pacific

Navy Sonar Technician 2nd Class Michael C. Mann, whose wife, Sheila, is the daughter of Virgil and Josephine Hampton of Madison Avenue, Granite City, has departed for the western Pacific.

He is a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Reasoner, homeported in San Diego, Calif., and currently operating as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

During the cruise, he and his shipmates will participate in training exercises with other 7th Fleet units and those of allied nations. Port visits are scheduled in several Far Eastern countries.

The Reasoner is a 430-foot-long "Knox" class frigate with a crew of 270. Armed with guns, missiles and rockets, she can operate independently or as a part of a naval task force.

She is also outfitted with a landing platform and normally carries a light helicopter for long-range detection and attack of submarines.

Mann joined the Navy in December 1974.

Meeting on housing here tomorrow

The second in a series of six public meetings on housing problems will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Granite City Township Hall, 2960 Delmar Ave.

The meetings, sponsored by the Madison County Community Development Department, are designed to help homeowners understand legal issues involved in renting and home ownership.

Areas of discussion include home ownership, titles, rental problems, rental agreements and anything brought out by those attending. At the first meeting, held last Tuesday in the Nameoki Township Hall, the forecast for a heavy snow is believed to be one reason the turnout was light. About 12 persons attended. However, a spokesman for the Community Development Department said 35 to 40 people are expected at this Tuesday's meeting in the Granite City Township hall.

Attorneys representing the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation will explain the concepts of prepaid legal assistance available and free aid to low income residents. For those who do not qualify for existing programs, a referral system has been established, in conjunction with the Illinois Bar Association, offering half-hour consultations on housing problems for a minimum sum, in the $10 range.

"We hope everyone who has a housing problem will attend and better understand the legal complexities of the system and aid available to them," a spokesman for the Community Development office said.

Later meetings are scheduled for Wednesday, March 19, in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh Street and Lee Avenue, Madison; Tuesday, March 25, at the Elks Hall on Broadway in Alton; Wednesday, March 26, at the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission in Alton, and Tuesday, April 1, at the Wood River Township Hall in East Alton.

All meetings begin at 6:30 p.m. There is no cost or obligation from attending.

Deadline on auto license '81 stickers

Passenger car owners with license plate registrations expiring in March are being reminded that they have until midnight Monday, March 31, to display green 1981 stickers in the upper left corners of their rear plates.

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon said 473,835 pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to motorists who currently display a red 1980 sticker expiring in March.

"If you still plan to send your application by mail, it should be in our office no later than Friday, March 14, for us to guarantee delivery by the March 31 deadline," Dixon said.

Another way to avoid long lines at the last minute is to purchase a sticker now at a participating Springfield or Chicago facilities, or at any of the 471 banks, 66 savings and loan associations or 629 currency exchanges participating in the license renewal program.

Motorists driving passenger cars with blue 1979 stickers are subject to arrest, and many now are being ticketed by city, county and state police.

"If you have not renewed your registration for 1980, you will not receive a print for 1981," Dixon said. "If you are driving with a blue 1979 sticker and do not have a green 1981 sticker, call our office and we'll send you one."

Sharold Yount winner of BPW speak-off

Sharold Yount, 2351 Morrison Road, was the winner of the 1979-80 District Individual Development Plan (IDP) speak-off competition held last week at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant.

The IDP speak-off and the Young Careerist Program speak-off were sponsored by the District XIV Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Peg Williamson of Highland was the winner of the Young Careerist event. Mrs. Yount presented speeches on femininity and single parenthood. She advanced to the district event by winning the Granite City BPW speak-off which was held in November.

She will represent District XIV at the state speak-off competition which will be held at the Illinois state convention May 2-4 at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis.

The winner of the state speak-off will advance to the national speak-off which will be held at the national BPW convention July 20-24 in Omaha, Neb.

Mrs. Yount has been a member of the Granite City BPW club for one year and is presently serving on the board of directors as program chairman. She is owner and operator of the Sharold Yount School of Hairdressing.

According to Pauline Weir, IDP coordinator for Granite City, the IDP program is sponsored each year by the club and involves a 16-hour course open to both members and non-members.

The IDP is a tool BPW members and non-members can use to help improve speaking ability and the ability to interact in groups and work situations, according to Mrs. Weir.

Those attending the event from Granite City were Annelise Smith, Lavelle Stephens, Ruth Walk, Rosalie Stern, Lil Marzuli, Emylee Alford, Melba Greer, Ollie Derr, Elsie Elmore, Rose Ezell, Ruth Nicholas, Toni Lynch, Verna Longyel, Hazel Collins, Julie Marzuli and Ray Yount.

Dredge active at site of new lock and dam

Effective immediately and until further notice, the contract dredge MCM IV will be working in the vicinity of miles 200 to 202.7 (Lock and Dam 26 replacement project), Upper Mississippi River.

The dredge will be working 24 hours per day, seven days per week discharging material on the Illinois bank through floating lines. Mariners will contact the dredge on VHF channels 13 or 16 for sailing instructions.

Mariners are being directed to approach the dredge with caution and pass at slow speed only after the exchange of proper signals.

Those looking for mooring sites while awaiting passage through Alton Locks 26 are being reminded that Navigation Notices PN 79-71 and PN 80-2 in effect eliminate mooring either bank on government lands, from the lock and dam to the power line crossing. All pilots are to continue monitoring VHF channel 14 for specific lockmaster instructions to accomplish safe, timely passage through this congested area.

MARIJUANA ARREST

A 15-year-old Pontoon Beach boy was detained by officials at GCHS North at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday for possession of marijuana. A school official alleged seeing him handing a marijuana cigarette to another student who was holding a $1 bill. The student with the cigarette was asked to empty his pockets and a plastic bag containing three marijuana cigarettes was found, authorities alleged.

Rotary chili event tomorrow

Nothing tastes better than hot chili on a cold, chilly day, members of the Granite City Rotary Club believe and they will be making pots and pots of hearty chili for tomorrow's "all you can eat" chili day at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and dinner will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Carryouts will be available.

Residents are being invited to eat both the afternoon and evening meals at the chili event, a club spokesman said. "And a carryout would make a nice midnight snack, for those immune to the effects of eating three chili meals in a 12 hour period," the spokesman added, requesting that he not be identified.

Tickets for the event are $2 each and include all the chili desired, dessert and a soft drink or coffee. They are available from any Rotary member and will be sold at the door.

The annual event raises funds for charitable and community programs aided by the club.

Martin L. Knecht, 88, of the Eden Care Center, Edwardsville, died at 1:51 p.m. Thursday at Oliver C.

Young solicitor learns his lesson

Free enterprise doesn't always work. Police arrested a 15-year-old Granite City boy at 5:30 p.m. Thursday in the 2500 block of Cleveland Boulevard after receiving reports a boy was soliciting money door-to-door, saying he was representing the United Way.

The annual drive is held in September and October and no solicitations are under way at this time.

The boy allegedly had collected $6.75 and told police he needed new clothes and did not know it was illegal to collect money. A canister with a slot on top was found in a driveway near where the boy was arrested. He was released to his mother on a notice to appear before juvenile authorities.

Surviving, besides Peter Knecht, are two other brothers, Herman Knecht of St. Louis and Edwin Knecht of Decatur, and one grandson. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, with burial in Sunset Hill Cemetery.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Jeffrey Stites, 18, Collinsville, was injured when his auto, eastbound on Niedringhaus Avenue, allegedly went around the lowered railroad crossing gates and collided with a Burlington-Northern Railroad train, backing west across the crossing last week. Stites was taken by a Granite City ambulance to a hospital but declined treatment, authorities said.

Jobs sought for veterans

A new federal program to give tax breaks to employers who hire veterans is expected to provide additional job opportunity for thousands of Vietnam veterans and veterans of other wars who have received rehabilitation training for service-connected disabilities.

The program is sponsored by the Department of Labor and the Internal Revenue Service and is supported by a grant from the Administration through its regional offices. It offers employers a "targeted job" tax credit for hiring individuals from seven groups the government is seeking to help.

The credit can amount to 50 percent of the first $6,000 in qualified wages paid employees during their first year on the job and 25 percent of the first $6,000 paid the second year.

Eligibles sought by the VA include economically-disadvantaged Vietnam era veterans under age 35 at the time of hiring and service-disabled veterans who have completed or are receiving VA rehabilitation training. Tax credit is based generally on wages paid to qualified employees first hired after Sept. 26, 1978, and earned between Jan. 1, 1979, and Dec. 31, 1980.

Applicants who qualify for the tax credit program are given a voucher that employers the individual's eligibility for certification if hired before a certain date. To receive certification, the employer completes the declaration on the voucher and returns it to the local Department of Labor Jobs Service office.

Individuals who believe they can qualify for the program are to contact the local state employment office. Veterans may also receive assistance from VA regional offices in determining eligibility.

Regional office staffs are working with the job training and apprenticeship employers as potential program users.

Ahlers now Navy ensign

Navy Ensign Gregor J. Ahlers, son of Bernard E. Ahlers and Mary R. Ahlers, 2601 E. 28th St., Granite City, was commissioned in his present rank upon completion of Aviator Officer Candidate School.

The 13-week course at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., was designed to prepare candidates for duties and responsibilities as commissioned officers and to prepare them to enter primary flight training.

The prospective aviators received general military, academic, physical fitness and leadership training which included navigation, military justice, mathematics and physics. They also received pre-flight training which centered around aerodynamics, sea and land survival, aviation physiology, and basic aircraft engineering.

A 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South, and a 1979 graduate of Illinois State University, Normal, with a bachelor of science degree, he joined the Navy in August 1979.

Changes in Tax Law

For this income tax filing season there are some new provisions in the tax law which may affect how you file your return. The Internal Revenue Service says.

As was the case last year, every person who files a return for a minimum of $100 is not subject to tax. This amount is called the "zero bracket amount" (ZBA). For 1979, however, the zero bracket amount has been increased, the degree of increase depending upon the taxpayer's filing status. For example, a single taxpayer's zero bracket amount is $2,300, an increase over the 1978 figure of $2,200. For married taxpayers filing jointly, the amount is $3,400, an increase of $300 over the 1978 figure. Married taxpayers filing separately get a ZBA of $1,700, an increase of $100 over the 1978 figure of $1,600.

In addition to the increased zero bracket figure, the amount allowed for each exemption taxpayer claims has been increased to $1,000, compared to the 1978 figure of $750. However, the general tax credit expired at the end of 1978.

As a result of changes in the ZBA and the amounts for personal exemptions, the following new filing levels have been established: $3,300 for single and heads of households and $5,400 for married couples both under 65 filing a joint return. If one spouse is 65 or over, the filing level for the couple is $6,400 and it's $7,400 for a married couple both of whom are 65 or over, if filing a joint return. If married and filing a separate return, the filing level is $1,600.

Changes apply to credits and deductions available too. Starting with the 1979 tax year, taxpayers who itemize deductions can no longer deduct state and local taxes imposed on the sale of gasoline or other motor fuel for personal use. Another item no longer deductible is a political contribution. However, a taxpayer now may claim a tax credit of up to $50 ($100 on a joint return) for contributions to candidates for public office and political committees. In effect, the new law has doubled the allowable credit.

New this year, parents may claim a tax credit for qualifying child care payments made to a relative, including a grandparent, unless the relative is the taxpayer's dependent or child under 19 years of age. These payments may be subject to Social Security tax.

A further change for the 1979 tax return is that a taxpayer's employment compensation may be taxable. The amount subject to tax is the lesser of government-paid unemployment compensation or one-half of the sum of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income, government paid unemployment compensation, and excludable disability income amount for individuals is $20,000, and for marrieds (filing jointly it's $25,000). For married taxpayers who do not file a joint return and did not live apart for the entire year, the base amount is zero.

As a result of new legislation, the Earned Income Credit (EIC), scheduled to expire after 1978, has become a permanent part of the tax law with increases in both the amount of the credit as well as the income limit on eligibility for the credit. The new credit rate is 10 percent of earned income up to a maximum of $5,000, or a maximum credit of $500. Previously, the figures were $4,000 and $400 respectively.

Under previous law, the credit was reduced $1 for every $10 of adjusted gross income (AGI) above $4,000 and the credit was not available when AGI reached $8,000. Now the phase-out does not begin until AGI or earned income hits $6,000, and the phase-out is complete at $10,000.

The new law also makes the EIC available to groups of taxpayers who didn't qualify previously: (1) married couples and surviving spouses whose only dependent child living with them is over 18 and neither disabled nor a student, and (2) heads of household who qualify for that status because they maintain a home for either a dependent or nondependent unmarried child who is over 18 and neither disabled nor a student. Eligible taxpayers can receive EIC's on information on the EIC and other new changes appear in the tax instructions.

Political Contributions Must Be Taken As Tax Credit

For 1979, the IRS says, taxpayers can only claim a tax credit for contributions to candidates for public office and political committees, and to newsletter funds of candidates and elected public officials. Previously the contribution could be taken as a deduction or a credit.

While a change in the law has repealed the itemized deductions for political contributions, it has also doubled the allowable credit. The credit can be taken to a maximum of $50 ($100 on a joint return). To be eligible for the credit the contributions must be made to (1) candidates for federal, state, or local office in general, primary, or special elections, (2) committees sponsoring such candidates, (3) national, state, or local committees of a national political party, or (4) newsletter funds of an official or candidate.

The free IRS Publication 585, "Voluntary Tax Methods to Help Finance Political Campaigns," offers helpful information and can be ordered by using the handy mail-order form in your tax package. The publication is also available from local IRS offices.

Tax Advice for Itemizing Deductions

While the IRS encourages as many taxpayers as possible to use the simple 1040A form, there will be millions of taxpayers who will find it to their advantage to itemize deductions on the 1040 form.

Generally, you will benefit from itemizing deductions if you paid interest and taxes on a home you own, had unusually large uninsured medical and dental expenses during the year, made large contributions to qualified charitable organizations, or had major uninsured casualty losses. What this means is that you will probably have itemized deductions totaling more than the zero bracket amount appropriate to your filing status.

Taxpayers who itemize deductions must reduce their adjusted gross income by their excess itemized deductions before they can calculate their tax liability. Excess itemized deductions are the amount by which total itemized deductions exceed the zero bracket amount. For example, a married couple filing jointly, with itemized deductions of $5,500, would subtract their zero bracket amount of $3,400 from the $5,500 in order to determine their excess itemized deductions of $2,100.

Although adjusted gross income is reduced by only the excess itemized deductions, all deductions are allowed. This is because the zero bracket amount is incorporated into the tax tables and the Tax Rate Schedules.

Itemized deductions are nonbusiness deductions. If you itemize your deductions, you must deduct the zero bracket amount. For example, a married couple filing jointly, with itemized deductions of $5,500, would subtract their zero bracket amount of $3,400 from the $5,500 in order to determine their excess itemized deductions of $2,100.

cost of your gas, oil, and other operating expenses, or eight cents for each mile you use your car for this purpose. You may deduct parking fees and tolls in addition to a set amount per mile. You must, of course, keep track of such expenses.

You may also include as part of your medical expenses, subject to the three percent limitation, your payments for medicines and drugs that are more than one percent of your adjusted gross income. You may include the cost of medicines and drugs whether or not prescriptions are required to obtain them.

There is only one exception to the three percent limitation on medical expenses. You may deduct, without that limitation, one-half of what you paid for medical insurance during the year, or $150, whichever is less. The rest of the payment for medical insurance may be included with your other medical expenses subject to the three percent limitation.

Interest

The interest you paid during the year on a debt for which you are legally responsible is deductible.

This includes such debts as a car loan, a bank loan, an educational loan, or a mortgage of your home. However, if in 1979 you prepaid interest allocable to any period after 1979, you can only deduct the amount of interest allocable to 1979 on your 1979 return.

Employers' Tax Break With Jobs Tax Credit

Employers can get a substantial "tax break" for hiring new employees under the new Jobs Tax Credit, the Internal Revenue Service says. Unlike previous similar legislation, the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is not subject to a $100,000 overall limitation.

An especially appealing feature of the Job Credit, according to the IRS, is that claiming the Credit on a Federal income tax return may be worth up to an additional $1,000 per certified employee for the employee's first year of employment and up to $1,500 per certified employee for the employee's second year of employment.

The Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is based on the wages of certain workers hired after September 28, 1978 (certain vocational rehabilitation employees may be hired before that date), and is a percentage of wages paid to them after December 31, 1978.

These employees must be certified as members of any of seven economically and socially disadvantaged groups before the credit may be claimed, the IRS said. Generally, the groups include certain handicapped individuals, veterans, ex-convicts, and certain categories of young people.

Local agencies which will certify members of these target groups are the state employment service and qualified schools offering a qualified cooperative education program.

More information about the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit appears in the free IRS Publication, "Targeted Jobs and WIN Credits," available by using the handy order coupon in the tax package or from your local IRS office.

Tax Course Geared To High School Students

Approximately five million high school students will learn how to fill out an income tax return as part of their curriculum this school year, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The vehicle for this instruction is an IRS-sponsored course called "Understanding Taxes," which is offered free to any high school interested in participating in the program. During the past school year, approximately 24,000 schools took advantage of the course.

"Understanding Taxes" includes a brief history of how the Federal Tax System works by a discussion of the role of taxes and their relationship to the national budget. After this national overview, "Understanding Taxes" concentrates on the individual's tax rights and responsibilities.

Since an individual taxpayer usually fills out a Form 1040 during the first years of taxpaying, "Understanding Taxes" covers the 1040A line-by-line. The course then explores the regular Form 1040; Schedules A and B for itemizing deductions and capital gains and losses; and other important information, including the merits of filing singly or jointly when married, claiming tax credits, and correcting or amending previous returns.

The "Understanding Taxes" course usually lasts four to six weeks in most high schools. Study guides, teachers' manuals, and two films are supplied free by the IRS. Since the course is taught in the school's ongoing curriculum, it often during a portion of social studies or economics class—students may be permitted to earn credit for tax taking. School administrators interested in learning further details about offering an "Understanding Taxes" program should call their local IRS office.

If you buy such things as clothing, a radio or TV set, furniture, or household appliances on an installment plan or a budget charge account, you must deduct the interest on the purchase. You may treat the finance charge payment as interest.

In general, the IRS says, that interest deductions must meet the following tests: The interest must result from an actual debt; credit relationship; the interest must be based on a valid obligation to pay a fixed sum of money, and the debt must be one for which you are legally liable.

Taxes

The following state or local taxes that you paid during the year are deductible: income tax (including taxes withheld or paid as estimated tax during the year), real property tax, personal property tax, and general sales tax. Bear in mind, the gasoline tax is no longer deductible. Remember, the tax on major purchases, such as a car, truck, or boat, or materials purchased to build a new home, generally can be deducted in addition to the table amount. Personal property taxes assessed by some states, especially on cars, may be deductible if they are based on the value of the property and imposed annually.

The 1979 Optional State Sales Tax Tables are a convenient reference for determining the amount you may be able to deduct for those taxes. No Federal taxes are deductible on your Federal income tax return.

Excess Social Security Tax Can Be Claimed

If you worked for two or more employers during 1979 and received wages totaling more than $22,900, and more than $1,403.77 of social security tax was withheld, you are entitled to claim the excess of social security tax withheld as a credit against your income tax.

If you file a joint return, you and your spouse must make separate computations. However, if you worked for only one employer and more than $1,403.77 was withheld, you may not claim the excess as a credit against your income tax. Your employer should adjust this over-collection with you.

CHIP CARTER PLANS VISIT ON THURSDAY

Chip Carter, son of President Jimmy Carter, will visit the Madison County Courthouse about 2:30 p.m. Thursday for a public talk and to tour county jails. Promoters are hoping for a large crowd in the courthouse lobby to hear the talk.

HOUSE BURGLARY

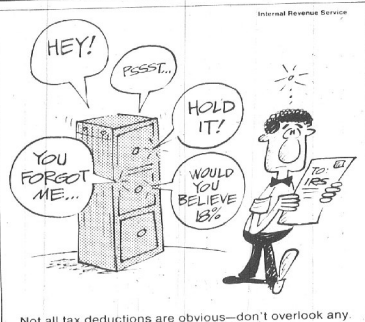

Norman Huniak, 1423 Third St., Madison, discovered at 10:05 a.m. Sunday his home had been burglarized. A neckless, bracelet and some beer with a total value of $125 had been taken.

MOBILE HOME FIRE

The mobile home of Phillip Carey, 55 Holiday Mobile Homes, Route 35, had an estimated $4,000 damage to the structure and $1,500 to the contents. Lake firemen were at the scene from about 8 p.m. Sunday until 9 p.m. The fire is believed to have started from a short-circuit. Two pumpers, the emergency squad and 20 Long Lake firemen answered the call.

THEFT FROM TRUCK

Items valued at about $754 were stolen from the pickup truck of Arley Hoffman, 2314 E. 24th St., parked at his home. It was discovered at 12:40 p.m. Sunday. A coat hanger was believed to be the tool used. Taken were tool box and tools, a CB radio and a meter.

Not all tax deductions are obvious—don't overlook any.

Form Available To Amend Return

If, after you have filed your return, you discover that you failed to report some income, that you claimed deductions or credits by mistake, or are entitled to some you failed to claim, the error can be corrected.

To correct such errors, the IRS advises, prepare Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," and send it to the address shown on the instructions for that form.

An amended return usually must be filed within 3 years from the date that the original return was filed or was due, or within 2 years from the time the tax was paid, whichever date is later.

'Show Biz' in his blood

Beginning as a magician at an early age, Glenn Tonsor, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tonsor, 2106 Woodlawn Ave., got his first taste of show business and liked it.

In 1977 he was awarded first place in the teenage show during the Midwest Magic Jubilee in Clayton, Mo. He also received a certificate for "recognition of outstanding skill and dexterity in the art of prestidigitation."

During the summer of '78, he worked at Six Flags over Mid-America as a magician in the Magic Shop, performing on a daily basis.

He has since given up his magic career, but through the help and work of the Off-Campus Education program of the school district, he has begun a new career in "show biz."

Glenn, a 1979 graduate of Granite City High School North, had an interest in electronics and had tinkered with recording and sound systems. Jim Reid, industrial occupations coordinator at GCHS North, was aware of these interests and began to look for ways to help him pursue these interests.

Reid is also involved in employer relations for developing job slots for students in the Off-Campus program, which is coordinated for the school district by Don Shaffner.

Through the efforts of Shaffner and Reid, Tonsor was able to take part in the Cooperative Occupational Education program.

From August 1978 through May of last year, he worked at the Plantation Dinner Theater as a stage crew member and later as prop master.

After graduation, he began working at the Barn Dinner Theater as the stage manager. Some of the more notable actors he worked with were Stubby Kaye, Jack Murdock and Forrest Tucker.

He worked at the Barn for about six months before getting an offer to work as the technical director of a new dinner theater, the Goodtimes Dinner Theater, which was being planned at the Ramada Inn in Fairview Heights.

His first undertaking was the conversion of a disco into the proposed theater. He was instrumental in the purchasing of lighting and sound equipment, and he consulted in the stage construction and the conversion of the disk jockey area into the technical director's booth.

A few months ago, though, it seemed that Glenn might just get back into magic, possibly as the technical director for the Harry Blackstone Jr. magic show. Unfortunately, the show was experiencing financial difficulties and the deal fell through.

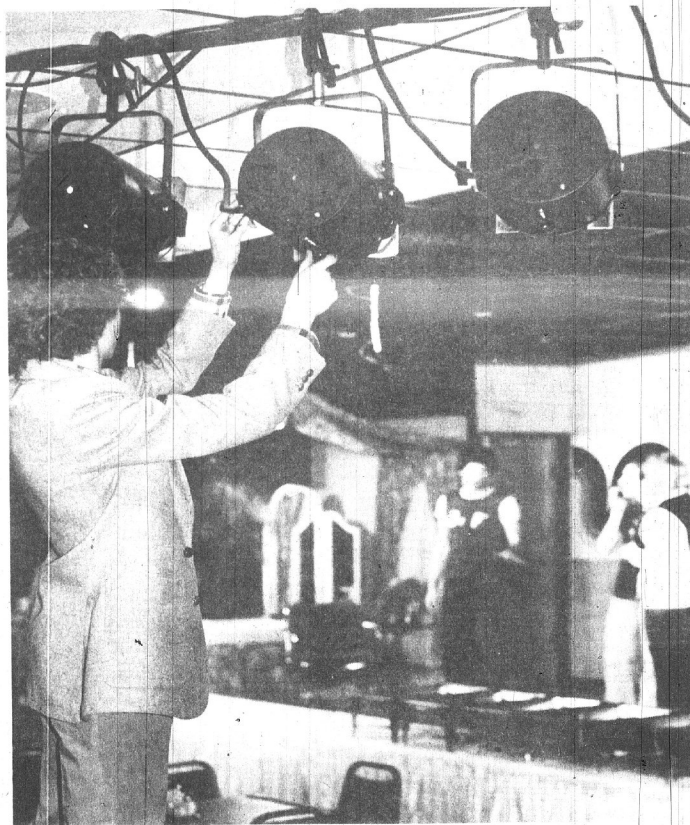

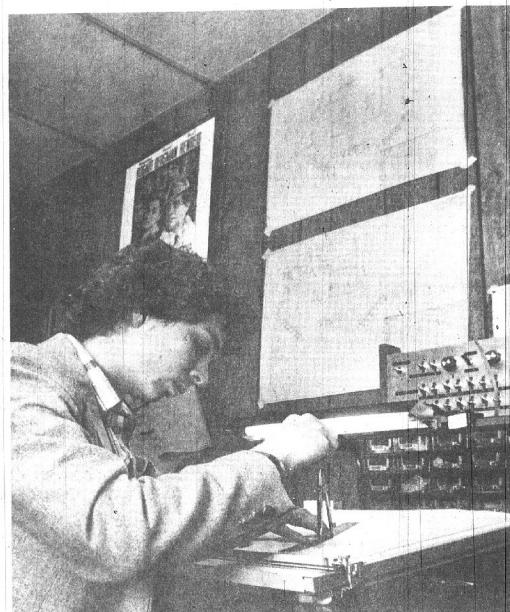

More recently, Glenn was approached with an opportunity to go to Tampa, Fla., to help in pre-production work for the play, "Play It Again, Sam," which had previously been presented at the Goodtimes Theater.

The technical aspects of the production were quite involved and the touring company had only two days to prepare before it would go on stage in front of an audience.

His most recent venture is a move to the West Coast, where he is hopeful of getting a job with Walt Disney Productions. Nothing definite has been offered to him by the organization, but he hopes at least to get a "foot in the door."

He says he has many other options for jobs in the Southern California area, so he really doesn't regard leaving the security of his job here for "the great unknown" as being that much of a gamble. After all, he is only 19.

Energy and its international politics create tough choices

 EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a series of 15 articles exploring "Energy and the Way We Live." In this article, John K. Cooley of the Christian Science Monitor discusses OPEC's meteoric rise to power and its implications.

 In early 1979, Iran's oil workers joined the revolution that hounded out their hated ruler, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi. By the year's end, seizure of American hostages in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran by the revolutionaries had escalated the situation beyond the mere loss of energy supplies from Iran into a major international crisis. Cutbacks in Iran's oil exports, and leapfrogging price hikes inside and outside the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) were giant new steps toward world power by the developing nations.

The process by which energy-rich states gained control of their own resources and also political leverage over their Western customers was far more, however, than just an exercise in current Muslim or Arab geopolitics. Its roots lie much deeper.

THE SEVEN SISTERS. In 1901, Muzaffereddin Shah of Iran granted gold prospector William Knox D'Arcy what was to become the first traditional Middle East oil concession.

By the 1920s, seven big Western firms had come to dominate the world energy market.

In rough order of size, the majors, or "Seven Sisters," have been Exxon, the Royal Dutch Shell group, Texaco, Standard Oil of California (known as Social, marketing as Chevron), Mobil, Gulf, and British Petroleum. In some areas a smaller, "eighth sister" has been France's Compagnie des Petroles.

Under the old concession system, the companies ran huge oil-bearing territories almost like colonies. Host governments had little control and shared minimally in profits.

Venezuela was the first to break with this pattern. After its first free elections in 1948, a nationalistic government passed an income tax law giving the government 50 percent of the oil companies' profits — at that time a truly revolutionary step.

The 50-50 system spread quickly to the Middle East, where Saudi Arabia took the lead in demanding half the profits of the Arabian-American Oil Company (ARAMCO), owned then by four of the seven sisters: Exxon, Texaco, Social, and Mobil.

"Profit," calculated by deducting production cost from the crude oil price "posted" by the company, was split equally between company and producer government. Kuwait, Iraq and others soon followed.

Iran's efforts in the 1950s under Prime Minister Muhammad Mossadeq to break the concession system brought confrontation between Mossadeq and a coalition of the Shah of Iran, the British, and the U.S. CIA — which brought the shah back from temporary exile in 1953 in a military coup.

Before the 1950s, the seven sisters acted together to establish a single world price for oil, based on the Gulf of Mexico oil price set by U.S. companies.

Since Middle East oil was vastly cheaper to produce than Gulf of Mexico oil, the major companies made enormous profits in the Middle East.

By the 1950s, however, Saudi Arabian light oil had replaced Gulf of Mexico oil as the world's pricing yardstick.

When the Suez War of 1956 between President Nasser's Egypt and an Anglo-French-Israeli coalition temporarily closed the Suez Canal to tankers, the price of Saudi Arabian light rose to a then unprecedented height of $2.12 per barrel (compared to $2 for some OPEC spot transactions in the late 1970s).

Mideast producing countries briefly tasted wealth, so when the foreign-owned companies unilaterally cut prices drastically again in 1959-60 without consulting producer governments, the shock was rude.

CREATION OF OPEC. The offspring of this shock, fathered chiefly by two oil ministers, Abdallah Tariki of Saudi Arabia and Perez Alfonso of Venezuela, was OPEC.

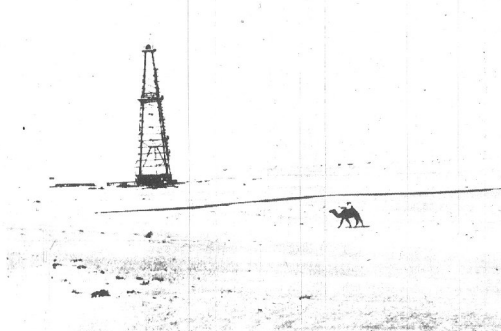

It was conceived at the first Arab Petroleum Congress of April 1960, and born at a crisis meeting of Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and Kuwait in Baghdad in 1960.

Eventually, the five charter members were joined by Qatar, Libya, Indonesia, Abu Dhabi (now the United Arab Emirates), Algeria, Nigeria, Ecuador and Gabon.

To force prices up to fair levels, OPEC in the 1960s regulated production.

Its members also sought equity participation for host governments in decisions regarding production, distribution, and pricing, first urged upon ARAMCO by Saudi Arabia in 1964.

When a world sellers'

SYMBOLS OF A CHANGING WORLD. Oil derrick and pipe line near Abqaiq, Saudi Arabia, symbolize the new power of the oil-rich "Third World" nations.

market for oil appeared in 1971, OPEC members were able to elbow major companies, little by little, toward granting participation.

Revolutions in Iraq (1958), Algeria (1962) and Libya (1969) led those three Arab states to nationalize production and related operations like distribution and marketing. Gradually, they gained full control of Western oil operations on their soil.

Other OPEC members branched out into creating their own petrochemical, natural gas, and tanker industries.

By February 1973, a devaluing U.S. dollar led OPEC to begin drastic price hikes to protect members' income.

Then, as U.S. import demand rose, the Arab oil embargo exploded upon the West, to support Egypt and Syria in their 1973 war against Israel.

World oil prices quadrupled, and supplies drastically tightened in the 1973-74 period, bringing world recession. Despite such Western countermeasures as formation of the International Energy Agency to share scarce supplies, a series of OPEC conferences — not without inter-OPEC wrangling — moved prices upward again and again.

OPEC'S POWER. Thus, in the twenty years of OPEC's life the oil-rich lands of Africa, Asia, and Latin America have risen from total subservience to the industrial world outside the Soviet bloc to potential economic mastery over that world.

In 1960, the United States, Western Europe and Japan were almost sole owners of the non-communist world's energy — sourced and distributed system.

By 1979, they had become dependent for energy on about a dozen oil-producing states. Drawing about half of its oil from OPEC, the U.S. found that OPEC was increasingly able to influence its foreign policy.

True, the economic interdependence of the world has mitigated this situation somewhat. Oil giants like Saudi Arabia depend on the West for everything from wheat to weapons, including the Western technology they need if they are to end this dependence.

Nonetheless, by 1979, Nigeria, black Africa's major OPEC member, had begun to exert pressure on the U.S. to favor the political solution it sought in Rhodesia. And Arab and Muslim OPEC members and their allies were influencing policies of West Europe and Japan to favor the Arab and Palestinian cause in the Middle East.

By combining useful use of the oil weapon with extreme political acumen, President Sadat broke the stalemate with Israel in 1973.

First, with Syria, he waged limited war against Israel. Then, with U.S. President Jimmy Carter, Sadat pursued a policy that they both termed "waging peace" — leading to the Egypt-Israel peace treaty signed in Washington March 26, 1979, the first which an Arab government ever signed with the Jewish state.

Today, the U.S. struggles toward a coherent energy policy. President Carter since 1977 has been seeking to allow U.S.-produced energy to rise toward world price levels, thus encouraging U.S. domestic production while the North Sea, Alaska, and other non-

OPEC sources are developed, and research goes forward on alternatives.

Meanwhile OPEC's constantly growing leverage faces the U.S. with hard choices.

Should it consider selling oilfields or breaking blockades by use of military force? Or should it consider reshaping U.S. foreign policy to please OPEC members? Or, finally, should the U.S. government try to curb — through legislation and mass education — America's insatiable appetite for OPEC oil?

These questions are certain to engage the attention of Americans well into the 1980s and beyond.

Inflation is reflected in tax returns

Illinois Department of Revenue Director James B. Zagel reports that about 4.8 million state income tax returns are expected to be filed this year.

According to 1978 figures, more taxpayers fall into the $15,001 to $25,000 adjusted gross income bracket than any other category. There were 175 over $1 million bracket.

More of them are married than not, although the single and unmarried head of household categories are gaining. And the majority claim only one or two exemptions.

Figures over the past four years show dramatic shifts in income and filing status. The number of taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes over $25,000 has more than doubled from the 463,000 filed in those brackets in 1975.

The filers in the $15,000 and below categories have declined during that time by nearly 300,000. Single taxpayers have increased by over 250,000, while married taxpayers have decreased by 42,500.

Why your monthly utility bills go UP and Down...

Three factors cause your utility bills to vary from month to month: the weather, your family's lifestyle and the condition of your home. If you use air conditioning, your electric bills will increase in summer. During winter your monthly bill for natural gas will rise accordingly.

In winter or summer, your bills will be higher than necessary if you set your thermostat several degrees beyond the temperature needed for adequate comfort. If your home lacks proper insulation, weatherstripping and storm windows, your monthly bill will include a lot of wasted energy.

Physical education building follows 14 years of effort

Construction funding for a physical education, recreation and athletic facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the part of Governor James R. Thompson's 1966-67 budget, has brought a big smile to the face of Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, Edwardsville Democrat.

"It's really hard to express my elation in seeing this building finally move toward completion," Sen. Vadalabene said Thursday.

"After 14 long and grueling years, we will finally be able to provide SIUE—the only public institution in the state without such a facility—with the kind of building it so desperately needs and so well deserves."

Including internal SIUE funds, the project may total $12 million.

"First of all, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to the governor. It has surely proven that Jim Thompson is a man of his word."

"I also congratulate the Illinois Board of Higher Education for recognizing the high priority of this project," Vadalabene continued.

"The public has a right to know that the planning for this multi-purpose facility was provided in a careful, orderly and severely cost-conscious manner."

"For this, we have the administration and the members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville community to thank."

university will be able to continue in the proud tradition that has brought it national recognition in several sports. For too long, Cougar teams have had to compete under severely restricted circumstances.

"With an attractive recreational program, the university will have an asset to attract more and better students, as well as serving the general public by making facilities available for a variety of uses.

"It is clear that in appropriating $10.5 million, the state of Illinois is going to get one of the best bargains for its money in the history of higher education."

"So, I hope everyone can understand why this is such a banner day for me."

"I have labored, with the help and support of many dedicated citizens interested in making Southern Illinois University reach its full maturity, from almost the first moment I entered the legislature."

"Let's now move forward with all possible energy to bring about the day we can all celebrate at the ribbon-cutting," Sen. Vadalabene concluded.

Investigator solves complex case

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer and Chief of Detectives Robert Astorian are commending Granite City Detective Tony Eck for his clearing of what they termed was a very complicated series of forgeries throughout the area.

Investigating a check fraud case at First Granite City National Bank, Eck discovered that a woman had opened a checking account and used an Illinois state identification card with a false name on it to open the account.

Starter checks then had been used at Fairview Heights stores for several hundred dollars. One was in excess of $300 for a television set at Central Hardware in Fairview Heights.

Eck discovered that someone had stenciled a false name, false address and other information on the checks to make the starter checks appear to be checks on an established checking account.

He also discovered that a forged and stolen check had been presented at the bank and a small part of the money had been deposited into the account. The remainder of the forged check was taken in cash by the woman.

Eck is a member of the Check & Credit Card Investigators group, which involves police investigators from throughout the metropolitan area.

At one of their meetings, the detective discovered that another woman was cashing starter checks on an account in a Hazelwood, Mo., bank and had stenciled a false name and address on the checks. Working with a woman Hazelwood detective, Eck discovered that the

TONY ECK

Hazelwood area woman suspect also used a false state identification card to open the checking account.

Personnel at the Granite City Drivers' License Bureau aided Eck in determining that a false birth certificate had been used by one woman to obtain a false state identification card. They were asked to contact police if they saw the woman again.

Within two weeks, an employee at the driver's license facility recognized the woman, who said she had lost her ID card and wanted a duplicate. Although the showing of a birth certificate is not mandatory for a duplicate card, officials asked the woman to get her birth certificate and return with it if she wanted the duplicate.

When she left, they contacted Eck, who waited for her to return. She did not and later was discovered she had taken the false birth certificate to the East St. Louis drivers' license facility and obtained the duplicate card.

Recently, the woman returned to the driver's license facility and requested another ID card, this one in a different name. Personnel at the office called Eck and stalled her until officers arrived to arrest her.

A woman with her also was arrested. A state ID card on the second woman matched the name of the woman sought by Hazelwood police for cashing numerous worthless checks on the account there.

Two men with the women were also taken into custody and were questioned. One was released the next day, but one was kept because one of the women alleged he had been beating her and she was participating in the forgery scheme because of fear.

The Madison County state's attorney's office issued there was insufficient evidence to charge him, at this time, and he was released. The women were charged with forgery.

When Granite City's charges have been disposed of, the women are wanted for questioning in Hazelwood, St. Louis County, St. Louis city, Kirkwood and by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation in connection with the Fairview Heights checks.

In commending Eck for his work, Astorian commented, "Forgery cases are not always the most exciting of interesting types of cases, but Tony is always willing to take them on and does an excellent job."

"There is a great deal of detailed, sometimes boring, work necessary to break up a forgery ring. This one was very complicated and Tony had to rely on good investigative work, logic, luck, personal contacts in the banking field, friendship with officers from other police departments and every break he could get to tie it all together."

"We are very proud of him and of all our detectives," Astorian stated.

Veizer agreed, adding "This shows a great deal of good police work. Tony should be proud."

you can BANK on it!

E. A. KARANDJOFF Chairman Granite City Bank

Making a budget and sticking to it was probably the most difficult thing suggested in last week's column on inflation fighting. It could also be the most important.

Personal financial problems are most prevalent in times of inflation because of the illusion that we have more money. In fact, many of us have less money even though we have more dollars. Nonetheless, the normal tendency is to buy more things -- to increase our standard of living. That often brings on severe and sometimes unmanageable debt problems. This is where budgeting can be a tremendous asset.

Start by planning for necessities. Food, clothing, shelter and taxes. Then, if you really want to get ahead, put in savings. Try to make it at least five percent of total income. Now add the comforts you are accustomed to having. Then let the amount left over represent what you can spend for additional luxuries. Most people find if they can stay on a budget for just three months it becomes easy to enforce the habit. You can BANK on it!

Alta Stewart had the lesson taken from the book "Modelling Women" by Janice Bailey, on Abigail (Smith) Adams. She was married to John Adams, the second president of the United States and was the first lady to live in the president's house which was not called the White House in those days.

There were two candidates enrolled for the special day and they were from the Cahokia and Mascoutah Chapters. The Red Stole Ceremony was performed by the Cahokia Chapter College of Regents members. There were seven college members to be invested with the Red Stole. To receive the Red Stole, a college member must have received her cap and gown and been in the College of Regents for four years.

A luncheon was served by the Cahokia Chapter to 134 members and prizes were awarded during the special hour. The Central Chapter will be the host chapter for the 1981 Chapter Rally Day, to be held on March 1, 1981, it was announced.

Eagles Auxiliary adds two members

The Granite City Eagles Auxiliary 1126 meeting was called to order by President Shirley Robinson. Opening prayer was recited by two new members who were elected into membership, Mary Odum and Judy Warren.

They will be initiated at a later meeting. The District 8 meeting in Alton March 2 was reported on by the district secretary, Rose Gibson.

Reports were given by Auxiliary Secretary Helen Frazier, Treasurer Leona Delaloye, and Visiting Chairman Karen Reed. A white elephant gift donated by Florence Hagnauer was given to Helen Frazier and a prize to Leona Delaloye.

Closing prayer was offered by the chaplain, Eileen Rickett.

Immediately following the business portion of the meeting a luncheon was served, with Leona Delaloye and Ann Konopa as hostess.

Pyramids don't generate 'profits,' do cause losses

As we were saying three decades ago, beware of pyramid clubs.

Apparently some people didn't read our advice or forgot it (or hadn't yet been born way back then). But the advice was valid, and still is. Pyramid schemes, no matter how disguised, bring anguish and financial losses.

A lot of attention is being given these days in Missouri and Illinois to the technicalities of what is legal or illegal. But the overriding issue is fair play. It isn't nice to lure a friend into an activity that is going to cost him hard-earned money.

Three points tell the tale: 1. No counterfeiting is involved; therefore, no money is actually produced. 2. No "investment" or "earnings" are involved, since no money is put to work on a production line or in a profit-creating venture.

3. As is obvious after noting the first two points, every dollar gained by anyone is a dollar lost by someone else, no matter how much confusing talk there is about recycling money and finding fabulous fortunes.

The St. Louis sports figures who spoke out on behalf of "business investing" badly let down their fans and the impressionable young people who idolize them. Fellow, you were badly off-side, and you and many others face a penalty, either actual or in terms of your credibility.

Having dealt with the issue of fairness—actually, the lack of fairness—we also think of many other negatives worth noting.

It cannot be entirely legal, based on past interpretations and common sense. Judges who have suggested there is no illegality also are putting a big "poor" rating in their performance record.

The dream of a big financial killing depends on mass gullibility and an impossibly large population base.

And it requires a lot of precise record keeping and an unbelievable degree of impossible-to-verify honesty on the part of various levels of "investors." Already, there have been complaints of inaccurate bookkeeping and misplaced records.

From St. Louis and St. Louis County, the craze has spread to Belleville, the Quad-Cities and Godfrey despite a warning by Richard Cosby, first assistant to the Illinois attorney general, that pyramids violate the Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Practices Act and lottery statutes.

Unfortunately, the less-than-honorable aura surrounding the whole concept seems to be convincing some persons—blindingly eager to get rich quick—that it is the critics rather than the promoters who may not be telling the full story.

But it seems clear that anyone who does make a buck—as a pyramid "secretary" or the kingpin of a pyramid of 128 persons—will have on his conscience that somebody else was bilked out of that dollar.

Referral program here seeks jobs for older workers

What is RENEW, the Referral and Employment Network for Elderly Workers, that is being established here? It is a program to encourage the meaningful employment of persons 40 years of age and older.

Are older workers an important source of manpower? Yes, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, of a total work force figure of 100,000,000, $2,215,000 are 40 years old or older—almost 40 percent. The nation's business and industrial sectors could ill afford to lose them.

Why hire the older worker? According to U.S. Labor Department studies, older workers are just as productive on the job as their younger counterparts, and often more so. They show less absenteeism and experience fewer accidents.

They stay with the job longer and are far less prone to job hopping. They are a good influence on the job, and a stabilizing factor for younger co-workers. They possess valuable traits sometimes lacking in less mature workers: stability, loyalty, reliability, a will to work, a sense of responsibility, fewer off-the-job problems and distractions, and a more serious attitude toward the job.

Contrary to popular belief, older workers are readily retrainable, learning new skills quickly and easily. Placement rates for older workers, stability, loyalty, training programs are higher than the average, because of their accumulated skills and disciplined work habits, according to the Job Service here. These are characteristics no employer can afford to overlook. They are the characteristics that RENEW workers are making available to business and industry.

Why do older workers need jobs? Three reasons: 1. To supplement income; surveys show that 20 percent of workers age 55 or over live on incomes below established poverty levels. Another 15 percent are just slightly above sub-standard financial rates, including workers not drawing Social Security benefits. The majority of these incomes are fixed and need supplementing, especially during inflationary periods. 2. To fulfill the need to be useful, to be occupied—of vital importance psychologically. 3. To begin a second career.

What types of jobs do older workers qualify for? There is little or no limitation. Older workers can and do perform most jobs that employ other age groups. These two factors together—older workers and employers benefit by contacting the RENEW person nearest them.

Who does the program help? Two groups: Older workers looking for jobs, and employers looking for qualified workers to fill their job openings. The RENEW program is a catalyst to bring these two factions together. Older workers and employers benefit by contacting the RENEW person nearest them.

AND WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF THE HIGH COST OF HOUSING?

Allen called a practical idealist

To the Editor:

In the coming primary on Tuesday, March 18, the Democratic voters of this area will have an opportunity to nominate Dick Allen, a lifelong resident, to be the office of state's attorney.

In my opinion, Dick would bring to the office not only the exceptional experience, talent and judgment required of a public prosecutor, but the necessary zeal and independence to meet our highest expectations.

His close association with

After his wartime service with General Patton's famous armored divisions, Dick attended Illinois College and developed an interest in good government and public service that has been unwavering through the years.

He can be counted as a practical idealist who is forthright and direct in his dealing with everyone.

One who has known him to duck a responsibility or to avoid an issue.

His close association with

Examples of this stupidity are: exchanges of scientific knowledge with Moscow,

Debates show Anderson wisdom

To the Editor:

The nation certainly owes the League of Women Voters a debt of gratitude for bringing to the populace the debates of Republican presidential candidates.

We should likewise be grateful to the networks for the wide exposure provided. The debates were shown on different networks at different times, making it possible for many viewers to see the telecast.

Illinoisans should be particularly proud of Congressman John Anderson's dedication to true American ideals.

While some of the debaters talk about less control by the federal government, they admit that they would not immediately strive for more federal controls; i.e. prayer—rather than honor the right of every American to worship according to individual commitment, some would impose the meaning of words in recitation of words in schools.

Most encouraging was Rep. Anderson's sound recommendation that we identify and handle the "enemy within" rather than looking for bogeymen to justify our jumping into the pit of the old military industrial devourer of our children.

Development of renewable energy resources at home can remove the threat of the slaughter of our young, greatly dimmed inflation, investment, employment, dispose of tons of garbage,

Equality—rather than freeing all Americans from discriminatory regulations, at all levels of government, some need to preserve inequality by regulating performance according to physical characteristics.

Anderson's ability and commitment; and the ultimate of government interference to force the nation's youth to register for military service for the preservation of special interests.

Most encouraging was Rep. Anderson's sound recommendation that we identify and handle the "enemy within" rather than looking for bogeymen to justify our jumping into the pit of the old military industrial devourer of our children.

Development of renewable energy resources at home can remove the threat of the slaughter of our young, greatly dimmed inflation, investment, employment, dispose of tons of garbage, especially one which has had absolutely no illnesses whatsoever in their history—having knowledgeable and experienced helpers a phone call away is a godsend through such strenuous times.

The three staff members who helped us—Rosemarie Lindner, Nina Millett, and Phyllis Lundgard—gave 200 hours of their time and energy, their willingness to help, their knowledge, skills, intensive care, personal concern, etc.

There are services other than the above two offered by Hospice. Not having had occasion to tap them, I cannot address them here. Is this letter meant to persuade one into Hospice help? Not at all—he or she alone must decide that move.

This letter is intended to call attention to available help.

If the reader has indeed been deliberating Hospice help, he might consider this: I found that an inquiry causes no harm; the individual is under pressure into accepting Hospice help; the decision is ultimately yours.

We are fortunate, indeed, to have this service available to our community. It can be of invaluable help to those who elect to use it.

Schools encourage, teach, inspire

To the Editor:

There are times when adults in our community may criticize the young people, just as other adults in other times, have been critical of the younger generation. However, most generations have been able to surmount their labels and give a rather good account of themselves. They just need a few nudges in the right direction by the elders.

On behalf of our Society, we'd like to give a resounding shout to the younger generation students of the Speech Classes at Granite City High School for a display of their qualities of leadership, community responsibility and concern for the crippled and handicapped children.

In May 1979, the busiest possible month of the year for high school students, they sponsored a "Rockin' for the Ice" fund in Wilson Park.

It was unbelievably cold that day. They were wearing every kind of covering from sweaters to parkas.

The event started at 9 a.m. and finished at 9 p.m. They raised almost $1,000 for the Ice Fund.

They felt they could have done better, if they began to plan their annual Granite City High School

Doubts phone rate hike is needed

To the Editor:

I have studied the article appearing in your Thursday, Feb. 7, issue, "Illinois Bell technological advances; telephones here increase to 48,340."

Thanks to the League of Women Voters, there will be more exposure of candidate views. This opportunity to hear the candidates should be used to scrutinize carefully what is said, penetrating the facade of old rhetoric and examining clearly stated ideas to resolve difficulties.

He who has the perception and courage to depart from clichés and scapegoats and to outline our responsibilities deserves support.

Additional debates will be aired. It is hoped that Democratic participation will be possible soon. An informed and thinking citizenry can thus be equipped to choose their leader.

Citizens seek curbs

To the Editor:

Recently, I received an unsigned fully typewritten postcard asking me whether monies are available to "curb" Faith Avenue between Marshall Avenue and Warren Avenue.

The writer stated that this was the "only block in the entire ward" that had a condition of standing water. There were also some other block statements and several questions.

The card was signed "Ward Citizens For Better Improvements." This is the first time I ever heard of that citizen group. I don't know any of its members, because they have never bothered to contact me.

Citizen groups of this nature, if they are serious, can be very instrumental in obtaining the relief they desire.

In the past, I have worked with many citizen groups. And we have been fairly successful when everyone worked together.

There is nothing more productive than a concerned group of taxpayers actively backing their elected official when he seeks funding for their particular needs.

How can a public servant do his duty if his constituents don't talk to him, but instead send him anonymous postcards? By the way, my fellow alderman, Mr. Everett Morlen, informed me that he did not receive any postcard.

I would very much like to talk to the Ward Citizens For Better Improvements, but until they let me know who they are, I cannot effectively work to solve their problems.

Hasty tax for inefficient system?

To the Editor:

Look at this: We here in the East Side communities are going to be asked to tax ourselves to the tune of $1,000,000 so that the Bi-State Development Agency does not lose part of its $6.2 million subsidy which has been budgeted by the Illinois legislature.

While I am in agreement that a transportation system is important to any metropolitan area, it is unreasonable to assume that a local community should collect funds from its citizens to magnify an acknowledged inefficient operation.

Madison roars to 'Sweet Sixteen'

By ROB REHG
For the Press-Record
VANDALIA — A party atmosphere had taken over the Vandalia gymnasium. The Madison Trojans had just moved one step closer

Friday night to the Class A Illinois High School championship by beating the Bunker Hill Minutemen, 72-60, to win their second straight Vandalia Sectional. Madison fans had stormed onto the court at the final buzzer, and now nobody wanted to leave. Trojan guard Ricky Powers was strutting around with the nets from both baskets draped across his neck. A picture of perpetual motion, Powers was dancing, shaking hands and laughing heartily all at the same time. Occasionally he would take time out to tell anyone within ear shot that the Trojans were headed "all the way this year. All the way."

His teammates were busy nuzzling a photographer with smiling cheerleaders on their sides, the first place Vandalia trophy at their feet and jubilant shouts of "We're number one!" filling the air.

Suddenly, Trojan forward Kerry Guest came streaking across court screaming "Wait. Wait for me." It was too late. The picture had been taken. "Aw man, I keep missing on all these pictures," Guest moaned.

"C'mon, just one more shot. Take one more." The photographer obliged and Guest posed handsomely with a broad smile beaming from ear to ear. A victory smile.

Meanwhile, the second place trophy was sitting completely unattended to on the floor of the Bunker Hill lockerroom. Doug Sauerwein and Doug Stagner, two battle weary Minutemen, sat on the floor slumped against their lockers.

Sauerwein had removed one tennis shoe, but was too tired to reach for the other. He was talking about the loss, and how good the Trojans were.

"They ran and ran and ran until we about dropped," he said.

"They didn't miss a shot," added Stagner. "I don't think our defense did that to us."

he said. "We've never lost at Eastern and we feel we can win there this time. We've won three Super-Sectionals

there on the way to two championships and a third-place finish) and we won the Charleston Holiday Tournament this season.

"Madison will have to prove to us that we can be beaten there."

As relaxed as Felling appeared in the locker room, he wasn't always that way during the game. Teutopolis came from behind to take a 14-11 at the end of the first quarter. The Wooden Shoes applied pressure that caused several Lawrenceville turnovers.

Most of the Teutopolis scoring work was taken care of during that stretch by 6'8" center Terry Braun. He scored six straight points, including four from directly under the basket.

But the Indians began using two Lawrenceville trademarks — the press and hot outside shooting. They took the lead 19-18 on a pair of free throws by forward Korny Hughes. They never trailed again.

"They (Teutopolis) have a lot more size than we're used to facing," said Felling. "So we have to hit the outside shot."

To get to Lantz Gym, take Interstate 70 east to Effingham. Then go north on Interstate 57 to the second Charleston exit (Ill. Route 16) into Charleston. Follow Route 16 to Fourth St. and turn right. Follow Fourth St. to the South Parking Lot.

Madison coach Larry Graham substituted freely throughout the night to keep fresh Trojans on the court.

"Their bench is so strong," said Sauerwein. "Everyone they used was quick and could shoot. We just couldn't keep up with them."

"They had such a balanced scoring attack it was tough to stop. It is no disgrace to lose to them. They'll probably wig state."

It was apparent from the start of the game that the Minutemen would be a full match for the Trojans. A full court press used by Madison throughout the night seemed to unnerve Bunker Hill. The Minutemen suffered 13 first-half turnovers and had a great deal of trouble moving the ball across half court against the press.

"The press hurt us, but it shouldn't have," said Hlaska. "I wasn't surprised when they used it from the start. They did the same thing against Lebanon and we exposed them to use it. Graham has a good bench — eight or nine strong — and he substitutes all the time. He tries to wear you out physically."

The Trojans jumped off to a 17-10 first quarter lead and were up 33-22 at the half. Morris Hughes, Madison's 6-foot-1 center, provided the early scoring punch with 14 first-half points. He finished the night with 16.

The Madison lead swelled to 52-36 after three quarters by Charles Claggett and Pat Hatter started dropping 20 foot bombs from the corners. The 6-foot-1 Claggett hit twice

Lawrenceville pressure too much for Teutopolis

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record

BRIDGEPORT — It was a familiar scene. Just like old times.

There was Lawrenceville basketball coach Ron Felling, decked out in blue jeans, cowboy shirt and vest, talking to reporters in his team's locker room after making it to the "Sweet Sixteen."

But this time, he didn't talk about a Jay Shidder or a Rick Leighty. Those names are from the past. The current group of Lawrenceville Indians are a bunch of "no names." But they get the job done.

Lawrenceville, ranked second in the state, rolled past Teutopolis 68-57 here Friday night to win the championship of the Red Hill Class A Regional Tournament and a trip to the Charleston Super-Sectional Tuesday against Madison, ranked third.

In the locker room, Felling spoke. "Hey, I wasn't sure if this team could win half a dozen ball games this season," he said. "I guess I've been a pessimist all season long. But the kids hung in there and they kept believing all year."

They've kept believing through 27 victories and only three losses. A season which, Felling insists, has surprised him. "They have developed into a good, tight team," he said. "Anything after this is just icing on the cake."

At that moment, a Lawrenceville assistant stuck his head inside the room and shouted, "Madison by twelve!"

"Great." Felling said to the reporters. "We want to play Madison. They're the team everybody has talked about and we want 'em."

"Charleston (the site of the game) has been good to us," he said. "We've never lost at Eastern and we feel we can win there this time. We've won three Super-Sectionals

there on the way to two championships and a third-place finish) and we won the Charleston Holiday Tournament this season."

"Madison will have to prove to us that we can be beaten there."

As relaxed as Felling appeared in the locker room, he wasn't always that way during the game. Teutopolis came from behind to take a 14-11 at the end of the first quarter. The Wooden Shoes applied pressure that caused several Lawrenceville turnovers.

Most of the Teutopolis scoring work was taken care of during that stretch by 6'8" center Terry Braun. He scored six straight points, including four from directly under the basket.

But the Indians began using two Lawrenceville trademarks — the press and hot outside shooting. They took the lead 19-18 on a pair of free throws by forward Korny Hughes. They never trailed again.

"They (Teutopolis) have a lot more size than we're used to facing," said Felling. "So we have to hit the outside shot."

"In fact, we live and die with outside shooting."

Lawrenceville's pressing defense was not without its drawbacks, however. Point guard Jeff Newlin picked up his fourth foul before the end of the half and freshman sensation Marty Simmons his third. At that point, the Indians led by five points, 35-30. But sophomore Doug Novek hit a 35-footer with three seconds left in the half to make it a seven-point bulge.

"When they (Simmons and Newlin) got into trouble, it worried me," said Felling. "That took away our best defensive player (Simmons)"

Edwardsville swarms North

By KEVIN ALLEN

of the Press-Record

HIGHLAND — Granite City North was hot, and North's Dennis Page was providing the spark.

Fifty seconds remained in the first half of the championship game of the Highland Regional when Page tipped in the shot that pulled North within two points of Edwardsville's Tigers.

It was Page's 14th point of the game, and though there was no way he or anyone else could have known, it was the Steelers' last hurrah. They would eventually lose 71-39.

But the half ended with Edwardsville leading 22-18. North had found back from a 14-6 disadvantage early in the second quarter to a point where the idea of an upset was more than just a vague notion.

That's where it ended. On a chalkboard in the parking lot locker room of the fancy Highland gymnasium, Edwardsville coach Bud Vallino mapped out the end of the Steelers' 1980 season.

"We put (Brad) Opel on Page in the second half. He was getting the base line in the first half and we wanted to take that away," Vallino said. "Then we tried to get (Norris) Mike York in a position where he couldn't get the ball. If that works, we shut off their two top scorers."

And just as it looked on the blackboard, that strategy was devastating. Page was held to only two points in the third quarter, while York was scoreless. In fact, the Steelers managed to score only nine points in all during the third quarter while the Tigers put in 21.

The impressive four-sided scoreboard in the center of the gym showed the result. It took only eight minutes for Edwardsville to extinguish the Steelers' fire. After three quarters the Tigers led 43-27 and were probably looking forward to next week's sectional tournament in East St. Louis.

The Steelers seemed to have left whatever it was that enabled them to keep pace with Tigers in the locker room. It was clear after the first few minutes of the third quarter North had no more surprises in store like that which enabled it to upset Highland in the opening round of the tournament.

At halftime when they made the adjustment, that was obviously the big difference," North coach Bill Ohendorf said. "But the adjustment didn't cause us three turnovers to start the half."

The first four times North had the ball, it came up empty — three times on direct turnovers. Two minutes had gone before the Steelers scored in the second half. By that time Edwardsville had run to an eight point lead.

We shut them completely down in the third quarter," Vallino said. "If our defense holds up we're going to be pretty tough."

Vallino could have said the same about his offense, what with 6-6 sophomore Paul Scheafer holding forth under the basket and guard Dan Allaria popping outside. The pair made it look easy against the Steelers.

"When you reach this level of competition," Ohendorf said, "you just don't change the number of cars in a diamond." Which is to say more simply the Steelers were no match for the Tigers.

"Even though it's the regular and all, it's very hard to get up for this type of game," Vallino said. "When you face a team you've beaten by 15 or 20 points already you tend to overlook them."

That may or not be why Page and company fared well in the first half. Whatever the reason, Page was able to pump in eight points in the second quarter to make the game close.

But in the third quarter Page had a pesky, six-foot shadow named Opel, and despite North's sharp-shooting leader's protests, Opel clinged to Page like a second shirt.

That was enough. Tigers didn't change the number of cars in the Steelers' diamond, they just cut off its spark.

LET'S DO IT AGAIN. Madison's Ricky Powers (right) raises his arms in victory Friday night as teammates and fans cut down the nets after MHS defeated Bunker Hill in the Vandalia Sectional championship game. Madison will face Lawrenceville Tuesday at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston at a Super-Sectional game and the right to advance to the "Elite Eight" at Champaign next weekend. Madison has won one state championship. Lawrenceville has won two.

Lincoln nips Kahoks

By RICK WELLE

For the Press-Record

"The only area we were lacking in was free throws. When the other team fouls you and you don't convert it's just like a turnover"

— Gene Catalpa, following a 75-61 win over Midline Dec. 10.

"It just comes down to missed free throws. That's it plain and simple"

— Gene Catalpa, following a 67-66 overtime loss to East St. Lincoln March 7 in the championship game of the Collinsville Class AA Regional.

COLLINSVILLE — Catalpa was soft-spoken as he sat alone in the locker room, quite a contrast to the head coach screaming at his team during the game. For him, and the Kahoks, the basketball season was over.

"I'm not going to knock my kids. Hell, they're 21-6. They had a good year. Some things in life aren't meant to be, that's all," he said.

For most of the game it looked as if more was meant to be for Collinsville. The Kahoks led the Tigers through most of the game.

Collinsville took a 19-15 first-quarter lead, with some thanks going to Mark Campbell (and some divine help) when he stripped, swished, popped or whatever you want to call it a 50-foot, three-quarter court shot at the buzzer.

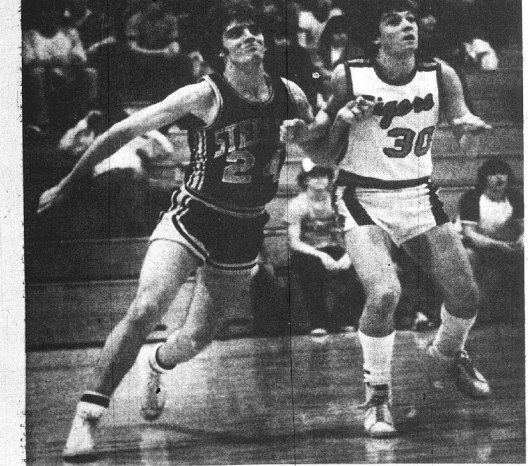

Again in the second quarter all seemed to be going right. Collinsville hit its first four shots from the field, and took a 33-26 lead in the game.

The ball did bounce for Lincoln, especially late in the game.

Like when Jackson missed second half of his one-and-one and the rebound bounced right to Ricky Slaughter. Slaughter laid it in to tie the game at 61-61 with 1:50 remaining in regulation play.

In the Campbell, who all season long has pumped from 15, 20 and 25 feet (not to mention the 50-footer earlier in the game) bounced one off the back of the rim at the buzzer ending the game. That basket that would have sent Collinsville rather than Lincoln on to East St. Louis to face Alton in the sectional.

Effingham has close-call

Most ranked AA teams win

NEWTON — Most of the top-ranked Class AA teams made it through regional competition unscathed Friday night, but not all the games were lopsided.

The most surprising final of all was the championship game of the Newton Regional where once-beaten and seventh-ranked Effingham (with 72 center Uwe Blab) had to make 12 of 14 free throws in the fourth quarter to defeat Olney 74-64.

Blab also scored nine points in that fourth quarter. He was the game's high-scorer with 25 points. Olney's Warren Wendling was next-high with 20.

Olney led 18-17 at the end of the first period, but Effingham came from behind to lead 39-36 at halftime. Effingham is now 25-1, while Olney is 21-4.

Elsewhere, Mascoutah claimed the championship of the Salem Regional with a 60-57 win over fellow-Mississippi Valley school O'Fallon. At Mount Vernon, it was the host team with a surprising 62-56 victory over South Seven Conference champion Centralia. The Orphans had beaten Mount Vernon twice during the regular season. At the Marion Regional, Carbondale beat Murphysboro 64-58.

Effingham, Mascoutah, Mount Vernon and Carbondale will advance to the West Frankfort Sectional Tournament which begins Tuesday.

At the Alton Regional, the host Redbirds had little trouble in disposing of Wood River 79-59 in the championship game. John Smith paced the winners with 18 points, while Dan Coddington led all scorers with 22 for Wood River.

At Belleville East, the host Lancers beat cross-town school Belleville West 71-56 for the championship. Alton and East will join Edwardsville and East St. Louis Lincoln at the East St. Louis Sectional.

The winners of the West Frankfort and East St. Louis sectionals will play next Tuesday (March 18) at the Carbondale Super-Sectional in the SIU Arena.

Rockets vs. Benton at Super

PINCKNEYVILLE — The Okawville Rockets pulled off another step toward the Class A State Finals here

Friday with a thrilling 57-56 victory over Pinckneyville in the championship game of the Pinckneyville Sectional.

All-Stater Gary Moeller led the Rockets with 19 points as Kevin Oberreiter had 14. Pinckneyville's Panthers were led by Kevin Reese's 23 points.

Okawville appeared to be on its way to an easy win at the end of the first quarter when it held an 18-9 lead. But Pinckneyville roared back to outscore the Rockets 14-5 in the second period and tie the score at halftime 23-23.

Okawville held a 38-34 lead going into the fourth quarter and had to hold on for dear life.

Pinckneyville bows out at 21-10, while Okawville is 26-5.

Okawville will advance to the Carbondale Class A Super-Sectional Tuesday night against the eighth-ranked team in the state, Benton.

Benton, which moved down from Class AA status this season, sports a 22-7 record against mainly large school competition.

Friday night, Benton's Rangers cruised to an easy 74-59 victory over Ziegler. Royaltown in the championship game of the Eldorado Sectional. Benton was led in scoring by guard Steve Schurz's 19 points.

Benton made trips to the one-class state finals in 1961, 1966 and 1971 under veteran coach Rich Herrin. Ironically, Okawville coach Dave Luchefeld was a 6'7" all-stater for Herrin when he coached at Okawville and led the Rockets to the State Finals in 1960.

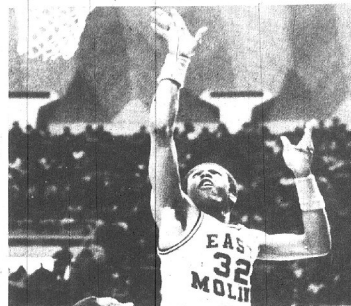

Earlier this season, Okawville beat Benton 56-55 in the Benton Invitational Tournament.

EDWARDSVILLE - Now,
after tough and long drills which began early in January, Coach Garret (Bo)
Collins of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has picked his varsity baseball squad which will be traveling to the southwest
United States over the

The Cougar baseball squad has been working out in one of the huge warehouses at the U.S. Army Engineers
Depot at Granite City, and Collins feels that those larger quarters, as compared to the usual compact size of a school gym, have helped his charges prepare themselves better for the upcoming season which opens March 12 at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque in a pair of nine-inning games.

In alphabetical order, the SUE traveling squad includes: Fernando Aguirre,
Mexico, infielder; pitcher,
Tom, Bue, Collinsville, catcher-outfielder; Tony Cattell, Roxana, catcher-outfielder; Tom Greco, Granite City, second baseman; Doug Gremard, Troy, Ill., pitcher.

Cary Hajduk, Niles, catcher-outfielder-designated; Rich Kantner,
Highland, outfielder; Ed
Kopff, St. Louis, second-third base; Jay Kruckman, Libertyville, first base; John
Lakin, Granite City, pitcher
(bullpen, mostly).

The play of Lakin and Aguirre in the pre-season practice sessions has pleased Coach Collins:
"John (Lakin) has looked outstanding in pitching drills; he has developed a great knuckleball which should make him very valuable, particularly in relief. Right now, I plan to use him in relief. In fact, at this point, he looks like the ace of the bullpen."

Aguirre, who previously I considered mostly for both a starter's role at third or short, but at least in a utility role on the infield, has looked impressive on the mound.

Soccer meeting
GRANITE CITY - The
Tri Cities YMCA Soccer Association will hold its spring registration for boys born in 1974 through adults
Wednesday, March 12 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the YMCA.
Teams as well as individuals may register for the adult program.

The fees for individuals are $10 per year.

MAC registration
MITCHELL - The Mitchell Athletic Club will hold registration for boys
baseball and girls softball today, March 10 from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Mitchell Grade School.

The registration is for boys age 7 through 13 and girls 7 through 15. Registration fee is $7. Those wanting more information may call 931-1218.

and our leader. But we had some guys take up the slack."

Those "guys" were senior guards John Lindsay and Joe Novsek. They got hot in the third period and scored eight of the Indians points in the frame.

Teutopolis, meanwhile, had its troubles scoring. The Indians' defense shut off
Braun, who had 14 in the first half. "We were able to clog up the middle well I thought," said Felling. "I guess that shows when a 6'9" guy is taking shots from 15 feet out."

Teutopolis coach
Lawrence Carie said that was a key. "Braun only touched the ball two times in the third quarter," he said.
"They were getting us out of our patterns and doing it well."

The rest of the game was almost academic. While Teutopolis was never out of it until late, the Wooden Shoes couldn't get a consistent attack together.

"Give all the credit to these guys," said Felling glancing at some of his team.
"They stuck with it."

"I know Madison is quick. I don't suppose we've faced a team this year with as much quickness as Madison. But we think out guards will match up with 'em. Madison will have to play us head up."

As several reporters made their way toward the door, the colorful Felling cast a sheen grin on the two remaining sports writers.

"Hell, there's no pressure on us," he said.
"Right now, I'm gonna go have a hot-toty and tie one on."

from at least 25 feet in the third quarter while headed for a 12 point night.

At times the Trojans looked awesome, scoring inside and outside with relative ease. They finished the night shooting 646 (31 of 48) from the field.

"They hit phenomenally from the outside," Hlaska said. "I expected them to go to the baseline well, but I didn't think they'd shoot as well from the wings as they did."

Madison also won the battle of the boards, outbounding Bunker Hill 30-15.

But as good as the Trojans looked sometimes, their performance was also marred by streaks of lackadaisical play. Eight fourth quarter turnovers by Madison kept the game from becoming a rout, and caused

Graham to lament. "We really didn't play that well tonight."

He singled out Hughes and Mark Zarr, who came off the bench to score seven points and block three shots, along with guard Kerry Guest as "fairly well." Guest didn't
but played a sound defensive game.

As for the rest of the Trojans, Graham said.
"We're going to have to play
a lot better than that against Lawrenceville (Tuesday night in the Charleston Super-Sectional) or we'll be out of this thing."

"With a young team this probably good for us," Graham said. "We don't have the maturity yet, and hopefully this game will bring us down to earth."

April 7 Madison school opening

Plans to utilize the new middle school in Madison are set for Monday, April 7, when students return from their Easter vacation.

At the Madison School Board meeting Thursday evening, it was noted that the major factor delaying moving in and becoming operational is the delivery of an 800-gallon hot water heater for the cafeteria.

Bernadine Watson was administration to hire temporary cooks for a few days during the last week of March. The regular cooks will be taking instruction on operation of the new kitchen equipment.

A discussion on new federal regulations governing "junk food" was held.

Caroline Sandor, cafeteria director, reported there will be little problem in complying with any new regulations.

A new federal rule for schools, that must be adopted by July 1, calls for the sale of sodas, gum, frozen ice desserts and some candies only after the last lunch period.

In other actions, the board approved: Madison Junior Service Club sending donation envelopes for the March of Dimes home with students.

Sending two staff members from the Madison Junior High School to a prescription learning seminar at Springfield March 20 and 21.

Sixth graders from Dunbar school visiting Omondaga Cave in Missouri on May 13.

Sale of food items, with a nutritional value, after lunch periods, the proceeds going to a relief program for starving Cambodian children.

And the Mothers' Club working with fund raising projects to raise money for new stage curtains at Madison High School.

In a letter from Livingston Community High School asking for information on how Madison cheerleaders are chosen, the MHS cheerleaders were described in the letter:

"I also want to congratulate your cheerleaders. Of all the schools that have visited Livingston, in my opinion you had the best, most well-mannered, most cooperative, neat and pleasant bunch of sweet girls," wrote Bette Jean Salter, cheerleader sponsor, Livingston Community High School.

The board voted to cancel the Thursday, Apr. 3, board meeting.

Miss Patton and two passengers in her car were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where there were released after treatment.

Miss Patton suffered a bump to her forehead and pain to her right leg and underwent X-rays. Faces 3 charges

Jessie Martin III, 23, of 2249 Dear Delmar Ave., was charged with aggravated assault, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct on city complaints after he allegedly scuffled with officers at his home at 3:40 p.m. Sunday.

Debbie Lynn, a friend of Martin's, alleged he had been uncontrollable since about 3 p.m. Saturday and had struck her on several occasions. She suffered bumps and abrasions to her forehead and marks on her left leg.

Martin was found at his home and allegedly yelled at police to get off his property. He refused to calm down and continued yelling and screaming, officers alleged.

Patrolman Michael Chonick reported Martin showed him and struggled with him and with Patrolman Mike Murgie. At one point, Martin allegedly grabbed Murgie's flashlight and refused to let go of it. Force was used to get him in a squad car, the officers said.

He was released on $105 cash bond. As he was leaving, he allegedly threatened Murgie's life.

Grant helps levee district, but treatment plants may be closed

One of several "headaches" commissioners of the Metro-East Sanitary District are suffering has been resolved, it was reported at Friday morning's board meeting in Washington Park.

Commissioner Walter "Shang" Greathouse of Granite City reported the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has awarded a $250,000 grant to the village of Caseyville to repair a major sewer break which the village's sewer line ties into the Landsdowne trunk line, maintained by the sanitary district.

The grant should enable Caseyville to repair the break and end a lawsuit the Illinois attorney general's office filed against the village and the sanitary district to halt the flow of raw sewage in and around Cahokia Mounds State Park.

Announcement of the grant came after a meeting Wednesday in Springfield involving representatives of the attorney general's office, the sanitary district, Caseyville and the EPA.

In an attempt to collect overdue sewage treatment fees, the commissioners voted to close the district's two sewage treatment plants in 90 days, if the cities do not pay the bills of their residents.

Notification is being sent by certified mail to Madison, Illinois, Fairmont City, Washington Park, Brooklyn, Caseyville, Cahokia and East St. Louis of the proposed closings of the treatment plants, unless the bills are paid. Residents of those cities are reported to owe the sanitary district more than $266,000.

At first, the commissioners voted to close only the Landsdowne treatment plant in 30 days, unless the bills are paid.

East St. Louis paid the $32,425 residents of that city own, but Dean McIlravy, consulting engineer for the district, said he felt a "last ditch effort" should be made to collect fees due from all communities. The motion then was amended to include both treatment plants.

The commissioners noted that raw sewage "will be going into the Mississippi River if the plants are closed and they are hopeful the EPA will exert pressure on the communities to pay the bills."

AREA OFFICIALS had a chance to meet and talk with Moon Landrieu, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, in the Carter administration, Thursday evening at a Democratic rally in the Madison Recreation Center. Above, Landrieu is greeted by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols. At right, the HUD secretary is seen speaking to the gathering behind a podium bedecked with a Carter-for-president poster. More than 150 persons were on hand for event. The rally was the eighth stop for the secretary that day in his campaign for the re-election of Pres. Carter and Vice-Pres. Mondale.

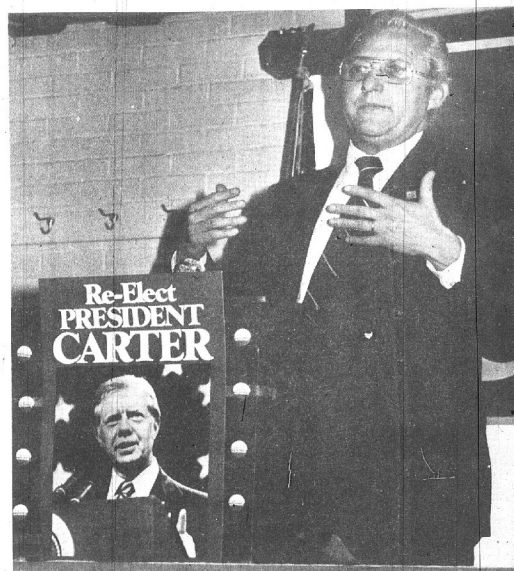

HUD secretary speaks at Democratic rally

Moon Landrieu, U.S. secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), spoke at a Democratic rally attended by more than 150 President Carter supporters at the Madison Recreation Center Thursday evening.

State Senator Sam Vadalaheine introduced Secretary Landrieu after the introduction of the mayors and officials of the cities of Madison, Granite City and Venice, county officials, representatives of Granite City and Venice townships and other dignitaries. Former mayor of New Orleans, Landrieu stressed the past record of the president as the best credentials for his selection.

Highlights of the Carter Administration were pointed out by the Cabinet member. These included the creation of more than nine million jobs and the reduction of the net yearly budget deficit by more than 75 percent from $64 billion to an added $15 billion deficit for the most recent year, he said.

This was the eighth and last stop that Landrieu made Thursday throughout the state before returning to Washington, D.C. He earlier had met with Southwestern Illinois mayors in Fairview Heights.

Financial help for city planning and urban renewal were also stressed, as was the coordination of many federal programs to eliminate overlapping and duplication of programs.

Increases in housing for the poor and additional monies for housing improvements were cited by the HUD secretary.

He thanked all present for their support in the campaign and asked that everyone double his or her support; the Carter-Mondale team has strong opposition in the Illinois primary election March 18, he asserted.

Mrs. Hillen is honored

Wilson School held a program called, "This Is Your Life," honoring Mrs. Vivian (Paulett) Hillen, secretary at Wilson School.

It was held in the school gym following the general PTA business meeting.

A slide show of her life was presented and a "This Is Your Life" book was given to the guest of honor.

The stage area, designed by Sandra Bowler, was created to simulate the Wilson Park area in memory of her father, Thomas Paulett, who at one time was president of the Granite City Park District and the Illinois State Park District Association.

A reception followed with decorations done in pastel shades of blue and white.

"Typewriters" depicting her profession served as centerpieces. Assisting in the reception were Virginia Oram, Doris Peterson, Maxine Bochers and Nancy Graf. Participating guests were Kenneth Hillen, Ted Vrenick, Mesdames Jean Jeffries, Lenora Early, Audrey Sperry, Adele Marshall, Doris Dulgeroff, Margaret (Willard) Rush, Edith Ryan, Ruth McCarty, Cal Bartels, Diane Kinder and Donna Rowland, all of Granite City, and Miss Deane Hillen, and David Thomas, both of Edwardsville.
